Surveys Shipyards For Wooden Hulls

VANCOUVER (CP)—A. Innes-Taylor of the U.S. Maritime Commission, said today he was making a survey of British Columbia shipyards with a view to the possible placing of orders for wooden freighters here.

"This survey is to find out what the wooden shipyards of Canada and the U.S. can do if such construction proves essential," Mr. Innes-Taylor said.

Ferry Blows Up

VICHY (AP)—A ferryboat plying between Cleron Island naval base and La Rochelle, on the coast northwest of Bordeaux, blew up today. Thirty persons were drowned, it was reported tonight. It was believed the boat struck a mine.

French India Free

LONDON (CP)—The BBC tonight reported a spokesman in London as saying that "Vichy had no power over the French colonies in India, as they had given their allegiance to the Free French over a year ago."

Name Rotary Chief

VANCOUVER (CP)—In hospital since Sunday suffering from a slight recurrent illness, Fred K. Jones, Spokane, was returned as district governor of Rotary district 101 at the annual conference here today. His name was the only one submitted to the conference.

Packers May Strike

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—The Packinghouse Workers' Organizing Committee (C.I.O.) stated today a strike vote will be taken tonight among employees of the Dumas Ltd. packing plant, as a result of alleged dismissal of two employees. The union said the company had refused to discuss the alleged dismissals.

GEN. GRAUD STILL AT VICHY

NEW YORK (AP)—Private advices reaching the Associated Press in New York today said that according to the best available information, Gen. Henri Graud, the French soldier who presented Pierre Laval with a dilemma by escaping from a German war prison, is still in Vichy, France.

This was the latest word of the whereabouts of the general who on Saturday was said in private reports to the New York Times to have been arrested in Geneva, Switzerland, while traveling with false papers under circumstances which seemed to indicate he was attempting to escape to Lisbon, Portugal.

Previously the government of Laval had denied he had been surrendered to the Germans on their demand.

Chinese Kill 4,500 Japs

Pocketed Invaders Face Annihilation

By SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING (AP)—Japanese reinforcements pushed to the aid of a trapped column of their comrades in western Yunnan province were intercepted today at Chefang, 25 miles inside China on the Burma Road, precipitating heavy fighting, a communique said.

The original Japanese invasion force—of which the Chinese previously reported they had killed 4,500—was said to be still surrounded by the Chinese army.

The communique confirmed Japanese reports of the fall of Bhamo, alternate terminal of the Burma Road 170 miles northeast of Mandalay, and Myittha, 250 miles north of Mandalay.

The Japanese were said to be attacking east of Lolo, 125 miles southeast of Mandalay, striking at Kungshin. The communique said the Chinese are resisting stubbornly.

This indicated another pocket of the Chinese troops in Burma, under the general command of Lt. Gen. Stilwell, still is fighting strongly in the area through which the Japanese swept last month in their thrust to capture Mandalay and Lashio and invade Yunnan province.

Earlier reports had indicated the Japanese in Yunnan province

Pétain Releases 500 in New Move

LONDON (CP)—Five hundred Frenchmen called "political prisoners by the Vichy government" were released at the week-end by Marshal Pétain, in what is thought to be "a bid on the part of the Germans to gain the allegiance of the French people to Vichy," the BBC reported tonight.

Sawyer Killed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Leo Livingston, 26, saw operator, was instantly killed and Clarence Vick, 27, and Maurice Talbot, 21, seriously injured when a seven-foot cut-off saw at the Acme Shingle Company's mills here broke into pieces today.

Sabotage Railway

STOCKHOLM (AP)—British electrical experts were reported tonight to have sabotaged the Trasmshams railway south of Trondheim after they had been smuggled into German-occupied Norway. The Britons were reported to have rendered the guard of the transformer at Bordshaug harmless, and then to have blown up the big station.

California 'Dims Out'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A nightly "dim-out" of lights that can be seen from the ocean was ordered today for northern California, effective tonight.

Each night, all lights visible from the sea must either be dimmed or extinguished, including street lights and lights in buildings.

The order was necessitated "by the accentuated submarine menace created by the shore-line silhouetting the American ships."

Clothing Rations

CANBERRA (AAP)—Government quarters today said a modification of the British coupon system probably will be the basis of clothing rationing in Australia beginning in July. Under this scheme a civilian would be allotted a certain total of points yearly and would surrender a specified number for each article of clothing bought.

Col. Zanuck in London

LONDON (CP)—Col. Darryl Zanuck of Hollywood has arrived in London on a military mission, it was announced today.

Sheep in Cemeteries

PORT HOPE, Ont. (CP)—Because of the shortage of labor, the Port Hope cemetery board announced today it had purchased a flock of sheep to crop grass in the Union, St. John's and Catholic cemeteries here. The board is responsible for maintenance of all three cemeteries and could not find men to cut the grass.

Britain Ready for Gas War Of Undreamed-of Magnitude

King Introduces Bill Lifting Ban On Overseas Draft; Cardin Resigns

OTTAWA (CP)—A bill to amend the National Resources Mobilization Act, removing the ban on compulsory service outside the Dominion, was introduced in the House of Commons this afternoon by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The amendment deletes Section 3 of the act which contains the clause which restricted the government from calling up men for military service in any theatre of war outside the Dominion.

When the Prime Minister had finished his statement on the Bill, Karl Homuth, Conservative, Waterloo, Ont., said: "Then the government takes full responsibility for it?"

Mr. King made no reply.

When Speaker Glen called the Bill for first reading, Ligouri Lacombe, Conservative, Laval-Two Mountains, Que., called: "On division!"

Resignation of Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Transport and Public Works, was announced by Mr. King.

Mr. King read correspondence in which Mr. Cardin explained his resignation was due to his inability to support the government on its compulsory service policy.

Mr. Cardin, in his letter of resignation, said he could see no reason why the government should—so soon after the plebiscite vote—introduce a measure which carried with it the principle of conscription for service overseas.

After Mr. King finished reading the exchange of letters with Mr. Cardin, Conservative House Leader Hanson asked:

"Will the Prime Minister table the correspondence and when will he announce the next resignation?"

"I regret I must take exception to my friend's last question," said Mr. King. "I think when he reflects on it no one will regret it more than he will."

"I will be glad to table the correspondence."

The veteran French-speaking minister was not in the House when Mr. King announced the resignation and read the exchange of letters, which showed the Prime Minister made a final effort to induce Mr. Cardin to change his mind.

"The presentation at this time of an amendment to abrogate Clause 3 of the National Mobilization Act is not, in my judgment, in accordance with the attitude taken and the views expressed in the speeches and declarations made soliciting an affirmative vote on the plebiscite," Mr. Cardin wrote in his letter of resignation which was dated May 9.

'Another Breach Like 1917' If Quebec M.P.'s Follow Cardin

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OTTAWA—The resignation of P. J. A. Cardin from the King government apparently solves the immediate crisis in the cabinet and assures a victory for conscriptionist ministers, but it means another breach in Canadian politics like that of 1917.

Mr. Cardin is expected to take with him nearly all Quebec members of Parliament, except a small group led by Minister of Justice St. Laurent, who is standing with the Prime Minister. Mr. King cannot avert, at the very best, a complete collapse of his long alliance with French-Canada, and his dream of national unity, for the moment anyway, lies in broken pieces at his feet.

BETTER OFF

The government's position is definitely better, however, without Cardin. It can now go ahead with a clear-cut policy on conscription. It can secure the repeal of section 3 of Mobilization Act and then impose conscription whenever it is required. This may be sooner, it may be months away, depending on current voluntary recruiting.

But in any case Mr. King now has the unanimous support of his English-speaking ministers and has been able to hold at least a remnant of strength in Quebec through the support of Mr. St. Laurent. Where Mr. King's position would have been impossible if all Quebec ministers had stood against conscription policy and powerful group of English-speaking ministers had supported it, he now can go ahead as leader of a predominantly English-speaking party.

BEGINNING OF NEW STRUGGLE

He undoubtedly has larger hopes, however. Once Quebec has registered its protest against conscription in Parliament, it may accept the will of the nation and gradually return to the Liberal fold. This is by no means certain, of course, and it may be that the current development means instead the emergence of a powerful new Quebec nationalist group headed by Cardin.

Cardin's resignation certainly means the beginning of a struggle between him on one side and St. Laurent and moderate forces on the other for control of Quebec. It is in this struggle that Mr. King must make his supreme effort at national unity. He failed to make it in the plebiscite campaign when Quebec was left pretty much to Cardin—a strong opponent of conscription—with disastrous results.

WORST DAYS FOR MR. KING

The time is now late, but Mr. King may still hope to carry the true issue of war over the head of local politicians straight to the ordinary Quebec people. Only by such a crusade can he hope to hold together the two races of Canada in the difficult days ahead. He will have some months to do it before actual conscription is required. His need at this late hour is to persuade Quebec to accept conscription when the time comes. But in the meantime he faces in Parliament the worst days of a large part of his party, much bitterness and undoubtedly charges from Quebec of broken faith.

Quebec Members Threaten to Bolt

By NORMAN MACLEOD

OTTAWA—While government sources predict that "from 40 to 45" Quebec members will support the legislation to amend the Mobilization Act that is to come into the House this afternoon, French-Canadian M.P.'s of nationalist views forecast that 50 of their compatriots will "bolt" on the issue.

Wilfrid Lacroix, M.P. for Quebec-Montmorency, and a leading nationalist among the Quebec Liberals, declared his intention to vote against the government on any bill that it might introduce. It was he, also, who sponsored the prophecy that 50 Quebec M.P.'s would take a similar stand.

Jean Francois Pouliot, also a spearhead of the nationalist forces among the government's Quebec following, was only less outright in his attitude than Mr. Lacroix. He declared that it would be "very difficult" for any of his compatriots from ridings that had voted decisively against the plebiscite to support any legislation which, however it may be disguised, will risk interpretation as a further step along the conscription highway.

Mr. Pouliot added, however, that he would not commit himself as to his own vote until he had seen the details of the amendments the government is introducing.

CAUCUS SHOWDOWN DUE

As the situation stands, interest in the capital now centres on next Wednesday's Liberal caucus, when the ministry will face its followers for the first time since the plebiscite voting.

Rumors concerning the course which the government will adopt at this gathering are many. The most interesting of them does not emanate from the cabinet itself, but is sponsored by sources which rarely are misinformed in respect to government policy.

It hints that the ministry bases its expectation of being able to hold the support of two-thirds of its Quebec following by framing its new policy around the principle of the defence of Canada—interpreting "Defence of Canada" in terms similar to those in which President Roosevelt has interpreted the defence of the United States, namely, as conceivably involving action in any part of the world.

In other words, what is now being intimated is that the government may be disposed to find some parallel between Quebec nationalism and the isolationist view which was so powerful in the United States at the commencement of the war. And just as President Roosevelt overcame the isolationist sentiment steadily by insisting that the defence of the United States required the various participation measures that he proposed from time to time, the government here is hopeful that it can win away French-speaking Canada from its nationalism by emphasizing that the policy it proposes to follow is based fundamentally on the principle of defence of Canada—even although the military action may be in another part of the world.

It is even suggested that considerable of the phraseology employed by President Roosevelt in framing his United States defence policy may be written into the defence of Canada policy that the government will draft here.

Cardin Absent From Cabinet

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. P. J. A. Cardin did not attend the noon meeting of the cabinet today. He said his resignation as Minister of Transport and Public Works was in the hands of the Prime Minister and that therefore he did not think he should attend. It was explained Mr. Cardin felt he could not remain in the cabinet in view of legislation which Mr. King is introducing. The legislation, in Mr. Cardin's view, would endorse the principle of conscription for overseas before events had developed to make such conscription necessary.

Mr. Cardin had told the people of Quebec the plebiscite was not a vote on conscription but to give the government and Parliament a free hand to act should the need develop. Mr. Cardin's view was that to ask Parliament to endorse the principle of conscription for overseas now constitutes a contradiction of his statements that the plebiscite was not a vote on conscription. Once the legislation was passed the government could bring in conscription by order-in-council without further reference to Parliament.

ONLY ONE

So far as is known, Mr. Cardin is the only minister to resign. He is generally regarded as leader of the Quebec Liberals in the House of Commons since the death of Rt. Hon. Ernest La. Reports today indicate most of the Quebec Liberal members support Mr. Cardin's action.

Churchill Defies Germany's Threat

By DREW MIDDLETON

LONDON (AP)—Observers who have seen some of the preparations in the past three years believe a gas offensive on a scale undreamed-of in the first Great War will be this country's swift and terrible answer if Germany resorts to that weapon in a desperate bid for victory in Russia.

If the Germans start using gas, the formidable preparations of which Prime Minister Churchill spoke Sunday would permit Britain to retaliate within a few hours if conditions were right, and observers believe Britain would have a tremendous advantage. (See text of Churchill broadcast, page 9.)

New gases and new techniques have been developed by British scientists. According to one well-informed source, reserves of "some of the most deadly gases yet discovered" have been built up.

The deadly partnership of the bomber and gas has been developed.

Any liquid gas can be sprayed from the air by replacing the bomb racks with a tank of the chemicals.

Deprive Enemy Of Use of Plants

Ejected at an altitude of five miles, the gas reaches the ground as a fine mist. Experts say mustard gas used in this way by the R.A.F. would make useless entire sections of industrial towns such as Stuttgart, deny to the German navy the use of Kiel's shore installations and close railroad centres and roads to the army until the decontamination squads had finished their work—no small job.

Presumably several hundred bombers would be required, however, to spray Berlin or Hamburg effectively.

In addition to the spraying method, it is believed that numbers of small bombs filled with choking gas, such as phosgene, would be used.

The enormous expansion of the R.A.F. has extended the gas target area to the very rail centres and depots from which German men and supplies are dispatched to the Russian theatre.

The fighting services and home security department have built up Europe's most complete protection against enemy gas. Millions of gas masks have been distributed.

Soldiers Trained For New Work

Squads in each battalion of the British army train the soldiers in the use of gas masks, capes, anti-gas ointments and eye shields.

Gas schools have been instituted for the fighting services. Troops on manoeuvres are sprayed with a mixture simulating mustard gas from aircraft out of sight. "Gas batteries" have hurled tons of bomb-like gas containers against manoeuvring infantry and tanks.

The British attitude reflected in the press was one of abhorrence for the use of gas, but of confidence that Germany would invite disaster for her cities and people by starting it—and had better think twice if, as Russia

Striking Miners Return to Work

SYDNEY MINES, N.S. (CP)—

Eighteen hundred striking miners of the Princess and Florence collieries of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company returned to work today pending negotiations of their grievances.

The 700 Florence men protested the suspension of eight men for leaving work an hour before quitting time April 18.

Artillery Duels in Libya

CAIRO (CP)—Minor exchanges of artillery fire between light British forces and enemy patrolling columns Sunday were the only activities reported in Libya today.

already has reported, she is testing it on the Crimean front.

British newspapers, recalling that Mr. Churchill accurately had foreseen "events at hand" in the past, took for granted he spoke of an imminent possibility. They renewed warnings to civilians to carry gas masks and their military writers dwelt on Britain's capacity to wage such warfare.

Reprisals Feared Hereafter By Nazis

"We have long learned there is no horror to which Hitler will not have recourse to gain his ends and we can be quite sure the only reason he has not used gas so far is fear of reprisals in kind," said the London Daily Mail.

"The most certain way to stop him from using gas now on Russia and here is by making quite clear, as Churchill has done, that a return visitation would be overwhelming to the German people. His words reflect the considered opinion of this nation that Germans can only be taught and subdued by personal experience of the agonies of war."

Empire to Retaliate With Growing Power

The Daily Express said: "The last thing in the world the British people want to see is the use of poison gas. They would sooner their victory cost them 20 years of hard fighting than win in one year by the use of gas."

"But if the Germans start the use of gas then Britain is equipped to respond. Churchill many times has been right in his warnings of events at hand in the war. No one will ignore his solemn warnings of gas warfare."

"The gangsters who rule Germany are desperate. Maybe they will not heed this warning from Britain. Let the German people heed it."

The London Daily Telegraph: "Churchill announced the Russians fear Hitler may use poison gas. If such an infamy is proved, Germany must know the whole British Commonwealth would endorse a decision to retaliate with all our growing power."

Nazis Repeat No-gas Pledge

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—Berlin broadcasts commenting on Prime Minister Churchill's Sunday speech denied today that German troops have used poison gas and recalled pledges by Hitler that Germany would refrain from using it.

German newspapers carried no mention of Mr. Churchill's speech. The authoritative commentary, Deutsches Aus Deutschland, however, said official assurances that Germany would not use poison gas "hold as good today as ever."

"The manner and method with which Churchill dealt with the problem is, however, extremely significant," Deutsches added. "The matter without doubt concerns primarily competent military authorities in Germany."

"If, however, Churchill wants to turn his threat to use gas into political effect on the Reich, he would do well to realize that such an expectation is based on complete ignorance of the German mind and, therefore, is doomed to failure from the very outset."

Asks Kidnappers To Release Child

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Chief of Police Earl Knight today issued a public appeal to the kidnappers of six-month-old Barbara Wood to leave the child in a public place "so it may be restored to its suffering parents."

With no clues yet discovered in the three days since the baby was taken from her carriage outside a London store where her mother was shopping, the chief stated:

"The baby could be left in a spot where it would be discovered quickly, and not exposed to the elements. Afterwards, the party could telephone the police or anyone and tell the location of the baby."

Back From Singapore

Malayan Treachery Big Factor in Defeat

Eugene Maurice Johnson, the only Canadian who fought with the United Nations army in the Malayan campaign and escaped from Singapore to Australia, returned to Victoria today. Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Johnson, Royal Oak, and the husband of the former Audrey St. Denis Wood.

Mr. Johnson, whose unit guarded the outskirts of Singapore during the siege, escaped to Sumatra on a 60-foot motorboat the day the city fell. On board were 63 soldiers including a brigadier and his staff.

"We were lucky, it's the only way to describe it," Mr. Johnson said. "A few hours before five large passenger ships started for Sumatra loaded with women and children. Only one ship reached the island. The Japs weren't so accurate in their dive bombing at the start of the campaign but they were really good by then."

The trip to Sumatra took a day. From there the refugees spent a week crossing the island during which they lived on rice, fish and coconuts. From Sumatra they went to Tillip, Java, on a coal boat and from Tillip to Perth by passenger ship.

ALWAYS AT HEELS

"The Japs were in Java two days after we left," Mr. Johnson said. "It was the same story throughout the campaign. The Japs were always at our heels."

Wounded during the Singapore siege, Mr. Johnson spent three weeks in hospital at Perth recovering from shrapnel wounds and fever. From there he went by sea to Melbourne where his passage home was arranged by the Canadian authorities.

Mr. Johnson, who returned to a rubber plantation owned by the Societe des Plantations et de Finance last October from Canada, was stationed just north of Kuala Lumpur at the start of the Malayan campaign. His regiment, the 4th Panang Battalion, was mobilized early in December.

MALAYANS DESERTED

With his unit were 60 European N.C.O.'s and 600 Malaysians, who deserted during the first week of the campaign.

"Jap fifth columnists did a thorough job in Malaya," Johnson said. "The Japs knew what we were going to do before we did it ourselves. Despite that there was little loss of life. The loss through being taken prisoner was far greater. The Japs had been trained in the jungles of Indo-China and their patrols kept cutting us off."

"We were always out-manoeuvred. We fought the roads like fools and the Japs fought the jungles like wise men."

According to Mr. Johnson, treachery of the Malaysians was one of the biggest factors in the defeat. He cited the case of four Malaysians, known fifth columnists, who were placed under arrest by a native detachment from his unit. Next morning the Malaysians and their guard had all deserted.

"We had some close shaves," Mr. Johnson said. "Our unit was guarding railways and bridges while demolition was conducted by Indian sappers. We drew plenty of attention from the Japs, especially their dive bombers."

BAGGED A JAP

During the campaign, Mr. Johnson, who began as a corporal, became a sergeant. This happened at Seamat and "it was here I got my one and only Jap—a sniper I brought down from a tree."

During the withdrawal his unit was often short of food and water. "I used my bayonet to open cans taken from stores that had been abandoned in small towns or left by retreating troops," he said.

Reaching Singapore early in February, his unit was assigned a post on the northeast corner of the island. Early in the siege the naval and air force staffs left. The naval base had been evacuated and the air bases destroyed by the Japs.

"The Civil Airport was a mess of burned planes. The naval base burned for a week," he said. Ability of Jap engineers accounted for the speedy repair of the causeway over the straits which was blown up by British forces.

"They repaired the causeway in no time at all," he said. "Sea defences of the island were excellent but the area facing the Strait of Johore and especially by the causeway was poorly prepared."

AUSTRALIANS RETIRED

"In one respect the Battle of Singapore was a defeat for the Australians," Mr. Johnson said. "The area by the causeway was held by a fresh Australian unit who broke when the Japs attacked."

According to Johnson there was little panic in Singapore. The entire siege was a series of days and nights of ceaseless dive bombing and machine gunning. Capture of the reservoirs by the Japs brought about the surrender.

Mr. Johnson has high praise for the Americans in Australia. "They are an excellent type of troop," he said. "Equipment, organization and discipline are all good. And their leaders are doing a lot to cut red tape in Australia."

Mr. Johnson crossed the Pacific on the same ship with Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippines.

"What am I going to do now? Join the army," Mr. Johnson said. "At the moment I don't know if I'm a soldier or civilian. They weren't sure in Australia either."

Has 96th Birthday

John N. Evans, one of Vancouver Island's early pioneers, celebrated his 96th birthday in Cowichan early this month with many of his friends at his home. Mr. Evans arrived in Victoria from lower Penthryn, Wales, in 1864.

After spending three years here he went up-island to Cowichan, and from there to California. There he married. Joining the Knights of Pythias in California, he has been a loyal member to this day. He returned to Cowichan with his wife several years later.

He was Liberal representative for the Cowichan district during the McBride administration, and was reeve and councillor for approximately 14 years.

Four daughters, and two sons of Mr. Evans are all living on Vancouver Island. His wife died in 1937.

Largest Volcano In Japan Erupts

LONDON (CP)—Asamayama, the largest active volcano in Japan, about 100 miles northwest of Tokyo, erupted with great violence Saturday night, doing unestimated damage, according to the Berlin radio.

The broadcast, quoting dispatches from Japan, said the eruption was the worst in many years and the German-controlled Brussels radio characterized it as "a catastrophe." A thick rain of ashes blanketed the countryside for miles around, the Brussels version added.

Asamayama, regarded as the most treacherous volcano in Japan, has a long history of eruptions, the worst of which occurred in 1783, lasting 88 days and killing thousands.

Following this outbreak the volcano was comparatively quiet until 1908, when it awoke to renewed violence. Parties of sight-seers were killed by sudden eruptions in 1911 and 1912.

Since then its activity has been manifested largely in occasional showers of stones and ashes. The mountain is 8,280 feet high and has a crater three-quarters of a mile in diameter.

Vichy's Envoy Questions Hull

WASHINGTON (AP)—The French Ambassador, Gaston Henry-Haye, conferred today with State Secretary Hull and said afterward he hoped conversations on French Caribbean possessions, now in progress at Martinique, "would bring some satisfactory solution."

At a press conference, Hull was noncommittal about the discussion and its results.

Henry-Haye disclosed after an hour with Hull that he carried no formal note from his government concerning American negotiations to safeguard the Caribbean possessions, but said he expected further instructions from Vichy.

Before meeting Hull, Henry-Haye told reporters "this is no time to pour oil on the fire."

PATIENCE NEEDED

"The less I say today the better," he said. "Patience is called for at the moment. I am trying to avoid complications by refraining from commentaries which might interfere with the adjustment of a deliberate problem."

The ambassador indicated he had come to discuss, rather than to protest, the American negotiations which were opened directly with Admiral Georges Robert, French High Commissioner, at Martinique last Saturday.

He declined to discuss the nature of the American proposals or to disclose the attitude of the Vichy government. State Department officials likewise have declined to discuss details of the negotiations.

(The German radio today broadcast a Vichy dispatch saying the United States has demanded that French warships off Martinique be demobilized; that United States garrisons be permitted on the island, and that a number of French tankers be turned over to the United States.)

Paris Dynamiters Get Radio Station

NEW YORK (AP)—Dynamiters have damaged the station of Radio Paris and the famous Parisian restaurant of Margueyrs, trustworthy advices to the Associated Press from Europe said today.

The extent of the damage was not fully known, but several persons were reported killed in the restaurant.

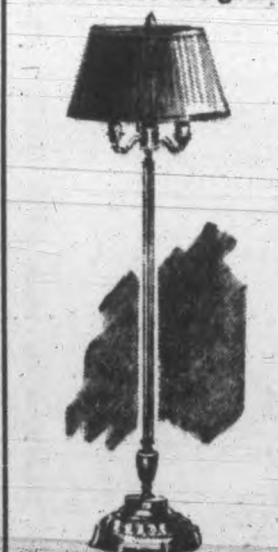

The BBC, in a broadcast heard by CBS, said that the main broadcasting station of Radio Paris, located 130 miles south of the capital at Bourges, had been blown up and the aerial had been downed.

These same sources said 20 more hostages had been shot near Rouen after two German sailors were killed, and that five others faced a firing squad at Saint Auben.

It was said that 50 more would be shot if the guilty persons were not produced by May 15, and that 500 would be deported to eastern territories.

The Paris long-wave transmitter has not been heard since regular close down time Saturday night.

McNamee Funeral In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Funeral services for Graham McNamee, 53, veteran news announcer who died Saturday night, will be held here tomorrow. Burial will be at Columbus, Ohio.

A brain embolism added to a chronic heart ailment stilled the resonant baritone voice known to millions of radio listeners first as a pioneer sportscaster in the early 1920's and later in describing all types of news events and on commercial programs.

The cheery "This is Graham McNamee speaking" echoed over the air waves for nearly two decades to win fame for the Washington, D.C.-born announcer who had been acclaimed as a singer before turning to straight announcing.

McNamee is survived by his second wife, the former Ann Lee Sims, whom he married in 1934 after he and the former Josephine Garrett were divorced.

People's Morale Must Back Army

OTTAWA (CP) — Lieut. Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the general staff said in an address Sunday night that the real war is not between the armed forces of the opposing belligerents but between the discipline of the people who make up the opposing nations.

He had spoken of the training and discipline of the army, and suggested that much of what he had said was applicable to the Canadian public.

"I say this because of my conviction that we shall win this war only if the voluntarily imposed self-discipline of our people rises to greater heights than the forcibly imposed mass discipline of our enemies," Gen. Stuart said.

He spoke over a national network of the CBC. His address was one of a series outlining the duties of various army branches. "We must always remember that training in the army has

Says 200,000 More Pilots Needed to Change Tide

CHICAGO — Captain Edward V. Rickenbacker, flying ace of the First World War and president of Eastern Airlines Inc., predicted before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States here that the United Nations' war against the Axis will last a minimum of five, and possibly 10 years, and cannot be won unless the nation gives up its "gimmie" complex.

Just back from a 15,000-mile inspection flight at the request of Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, head of the Army Air Forces, Captain Rickenbacker told the business men that we have been losing the war every day since Dec. 7.

He predicted that the army and navy will total 10,000,000 men "before we can hope for total victory" and estimated that a total of 200,000 combat pilots, 100,000 air instructors and 3,000,000 ground-crew members will be needed to insure final and complete victory over the Axis powers.

"Whether we like it or not—whether we face it or not—the next six months will tell the story, whether we are to remain one ultimate purpose only—the defeat of the enemy in battle," he said.

"To do so our forces must have spiritual or moral, mental and physical superiority over the enemy. That means that military training must embrace the moral and mental as well as the physical fields."

LIMIT CAN SIZES SALMON, HADDIES

OTTAWA (CP) — A reduction to three tin sizes for canned salmon, lobster and haddies and prohibition of use of tinplate for packing clam chowder, clam bouillon and scallops were announced today by George C. Bates in his capacity as administrator of non-ferrous metals for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Small sizes requiring extra free men and women or are to become slaves—like the French, the Belgians and all other conquered peoples," Captain Rickenbacker declared.

SAYS WE ARE LOSING WAR

"Many of us still do not understand that we can lose this war. Not only can we lose it—but we are losing it. We have been losing it every day, every week and every month since Dec. 7.

"We must stop losing the war before we can start to win it, for to date, we have lost the war. In five months our military failures have already prolonged the war two years beyond what it should have been.

"Too many of us have the gimmies—gimmie this and gimme that. We must learn to put some of our liberties and our standard of living in escrow now, in order to win a total victory, and have a little of what we have left."

Captain Rickenbacker said that "we must give up our selfishness, greedy ideas and petty politics and get to work—not for eight hours a day or 40 hours a week—but 50, 60 and 70 hours a week."

tinplate in their manufacture have been eliminated, but A. N. McLean, fish products administrator, said the public "will not be deprived of any goods."

Delivery of the Canadian salmon pack to Britain will be made in two sizes of tins, the smallest one having been found unsuitable to the current system of coupon rationing there. Lobsters will still be available in 6 and 12-ounce tins and haddies in 14-ounce sizes.

The board said clam chowder can easily be made at home and that clam bouillon can be packed in substitute containers. There was no surplus of scallops for canning.

"Canners are allowed to use up their stock of small sized cans, and provision is made for special permits for packing clam chowder, bouillon or scallops in tinplate," the board's statement said.

41 Nazi Raiders Bagged at Malta

VALETTA (CP) — Forty-one enemy aircraft were destroyed or damaged in raids on Malta Saturday night and Sunday.

Thirty-three of the total were bombers. Eight were fighters, communiques disclose.

Of the bombers, 12 were destroyed, 10 probably destroyed and 11 damaged. One fighter was destroyed, two probably destroyed and five were damaged.

There was heavy fighting over the island almost continuously.

An official report Sunday night showed that as a result of air raids, 75 per cent of the property of Valetta is uninhabitable. Malta's property losses include 15,500 homes, 70 churches, 22 schools, 18 convents and eight hospitals.

In a bomb-punctuated ceremony, General Lord Gort took the oath of office as governor and commander-in-chief of the island Sunday before a Chief Justice whose hand was bleeding from cuts suffered during a heavy Axis raid which had started a few minutes earlier.

Lord Gort was sworn in amid the ruins of a building hit in a previous raid. Bombs fell throughout the ceremony and at one time a near-hit forced high officials and service chiefs to flatten themselves on the debris-strewn ground.

GUNNERS SET RECORD

By LARRY ALLEN

ALEXANDRIA (AP) — The German air force has dropped more than 10,000 high explosive, armor-piercing bombs on Malta this year, but the Nazi mass raids "never will break Malta or the spirit of its people," Capt. George W. G. Simpson, commanding officer of Britain's submarine flotilla at the island, told newspapermen here at the week-end.

"British bombers, torpedo-carrying aircraft, surface craft and submarines which have been striking Axis convoys hard blows are the factors which forced the German air force to divert such terrific power against the island of Malta," he said.

He stated the Nazi attempt to smash Malta's air defenses and dockyards reached its peak Easter Sunday. But Maltese anti-aircraft gunners simply killed every shell they fired, hoping it would bring down a German, and blazed away.

WORLD RECORD

These gunners accounted for 101 planes in April, a record for any anti-aircraft defence in the world, Simpson declared.

"During one raid a one-ton bomb exploded near a Maltese battery, but when the dust cleared I saw the gunners waist-deep in debris, pumping shells."

"The morale and discipline of the Maltese actually seems to improve the harder they get hit," he commented.

Lady Strickland, aged and partly deaf widow of Lord Strickland, who lives in a Malta island castle, reacted typically, he said. When bombs twice burst in her garden, she remarked calmly, "At last I've heard something."

Her principal concern was that her pet peacock lost his tail feathers.

U.S. Bombers Bring Record

Unique Photos Show Coral Sea Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — To photographers witnessing the struggle from the vantage point of high flying U.S. bombers, the Battle of the Coral Sea presented a picture of 500 planes in endless combat, of Japanese warships manoeuvring desperately to escape attack.

This stirring scene was described in a Melbourne broadcast quoting Norman Stockton, a war correspondent who saw the photographic record of the engagement brought back by the bomber crews.

"The battle was fought at a point 150 miles from the North Queensland coast," the broadcast, recorded here by CBS, quoted Stockton.

"At least 500 planes took part. Both sides used torpedo carriers and dive bombers."

JAPS DODGE BOMBS

"During the course of battle the sky was completely cloudless. One astounding photograph shows six Japanese warships, including the two doomed aircraft carriers, weaving a pattern of white circles against the background of deep blue sea, each Japanese ship dodging American bombs in different directions, each frantically attempting to escape destruction.

"Another shows the aircraft carrier a few minutes before she was struck. The bombs are plainly etched against the background of blue sea and manoeuvring white vessels."

"In an earlier picture, the doomed aircraft carrier is seen making a complete circle of 360 degrees in an effort to avoid the bombs. The speed at which the Japanese ships were traveling in their effort to avoid the Allied planes is shown by the huge white wakes of foam, almost as large as the ships themselves, which they were trailing astern."

The Melbourne radio said it was informed by Stockton that the photographs were taken by United States bombers "returning from an independent mission when they observed the battle."

"They took up grandstand positions at 18,000 feet to make what is probably the most astounding photographic scoop on record."

Gallup Poll

Britons in Aggressive Mood Call Invasion No. 1 Problem

By BRITISH INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

LONDON — A dramatic change in the average Briton's point of view concerning the ever-present war is clearly discernible in results obtained by the British Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll). He does not worry so much about survival today, but, on the contrary, is eager to take the offensive.

Here is an example: In November, 1940, and again a few weeks ago, the Gallup Poll asked a cross-section of Britishers this question:

"What do you think is the most important war problem the British government must solve in the next few months?"

Today, in order of their most frequent mention, Britons name these:

- (1) Invading continent.
- (2) Shipping losses.
- (3) Production of war materials.
- (4) The Far East and India.

Then come a list of miscellaneous problems. Compare this list with the one resulting from the survey in November, 1940, in which the following problems were named as being the chief ones facing the government:

- (1) Night bombing.
- (2) Shipping losses.
- (3) Production.
- (4) Health of the general public.
- (5) Preparation for an offensive.
- (6) Evacuation problems.

These answers were entirely spontaneous, and were not the result of any submitted list.

Again, the offensive mood is reflected in the answers obtained to this open question:

"How can Britain best help defeat Germany this year?" Results were: By invading the continent or attacking elsewhere, 36 per cent; by giving all possible aid to Russia, 15 per cent; by bombing Germany, 13 per cent; by increasing production, 9 per cent; miscellaneous and undecided, 27 per cent.

Asked if it were possible for the Allies to defeat Germany this year, 41 per cent of the cross-section said "yes," 40 per cent "no," and 19 per cent were undecided. The swift rise of Sir Stafford Cripps to popular acclaim is shown by the fact that today Britishers nominate him as second only to Sir Anthony Eden as possible successor to Winston Churchill. The question was put this way:

"If anything should happen to Churchill, who would you like to see succeed him?"

Latest results are compared with those from a similar survey made last December:

Today Dec. 1941
Eden 37% 38%
Cripps 34%
Bevin 2% 7%
Attlee 2% 3%
Beaverbrook 2% 11%
Less than 1 per cent.

HOUSE WRECKED TO LOCATE CAT

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — There was a new mystery angle today in the case of "Dopey," the cat whose yowling for 11 days somewhere within the walls of Otto Tamm's home caused him to tear down his furnace, knock out walls and generally wreck the house in a search for the animal.

A scrawny yellow cat, one side of its face torn away and near death, was found in an alley only a few blocks from the Tamm home.

Whether it is "Dopey" no one knows for certain, because no one knows just what "Dopey" looks like.

Tamm said, however, the cat's color corresponded with the color of hairs found near a hole which led to a mouse nest in the siding of his house.

"Dopey's" cries ceased Saturday and Tamm surmised the animal had died.

HOW YOU CAN GET

A $100 LOAN AT HOUSEHOLD FINANCE

IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $9.46 A MONTH

No endorsers or guarantors required

WOULD a cash loan help you? If you have a job, you can borrow at Household Finance without fuss or bother—and at reasonable cost. You may repay your loan in monthly instalments which fit your own pocketbook.

Just this to do

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay.

You may choose the most convenient payment plan from the table below. Suppose you borrow $100 to be repaid at $9.46 a month. Twelve instalments of $9.46 each will repay your loan in full. You may prefer to repay sooner in order to reduce the cost. Six monthly instalments of $17.85 each—a total of $107.10—will also repay a $100 loan. The cost of your loan, in this case, is just $7.10. A $25 loan, repaid in six monthly instalments of $4.46 each costs only $1.76.

You need no endorsers or guarantors to borrow at Household—just the ability to repay in monthly instalments. This spares you the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your credit.

Household Finance loans are usually made on furniture or car. But we consider character and regular income far more important than the value of your security. You can get your loan quickly—usually in 24 hours or even sooner if necessary. If you should get sick or lose your position while paying on your loan, Household will show you every consideration.

Let Household help you

People borrow at Household to pay taxes, insurance, medical, dental, hospital and funeral expenses, school fees, and overdue bills of many kinds. Household service helps men and women, both married and single, to take care of emergency expenses and work their way out of debt.

If you can make good use of a loan, see us at once. We are in business to make loans to folks with money problems. Phone or visit us without obligation.

Churchillian Confidence

AT NO TIME SINCE HE BECAME PRIME

Minister two years ago has Mr. Churchill exuded such unalloyed optimism and jubilant hope as he did in his fighting speech to the English-speaking world yesterday. Not that he regards immediate and future developments of the conflict with equanimity; far from it. He nevertheless spoke with an assurance that reflected an understanding of an improved and improving condition which must have fired the imagination of the millions who listened to his words. We got a 1942 sample of the traditional, fearless, provoking, challenging Churchill—the Churchill of the days when he revelled in the blithely earnest thrust-and-parry of parliamentary debate. Every sentence had that quality of meaning and implication which only a man sure of his ground could impart. And although he admittedly avoided any risky allusion to the much-desired and much-talked-of second front, he welcomed, as an inspiring augury for the future, the universal fighting spirit manifested by the peoples of the United Nations coalition in their demand for action and more action; this, in the 32nd month of the war, in contrast with defeatist whimpers of other days of intense ordeal. The precise and specific threats the Prime Minister hurled at the main European enemy, moreover, were somewhat of a departure from custom. They, too, breathed confidence.

Eighteen months ago, Mr. Churchill recalled, Hitler had promised to "rub out" the towns and cities of Britain; but now "the boot is on the other leg." So the Prime Minister reminded the Fuehrer that the Royal Air Force—to be aided later on by American airmen in American machines—had carefully tabulated all the cities of the Reich that are producing munitions for the Wehrmacht, and proposed to deal with them in the same thorough manner as that applied to Luebeck, Rostock and dozens of other communities in various parts of Germany. Small wonder the Nazi chief would like to call off the aerial program. But it is too late; this man, "so besotted by his lust for blood and conquest," must take what is in store for him. And if the German people want to miss future bombings, it is their privilege to leave their munition factories, go into the fields, and "watch the home fires burning" from a distance. From such vantage points, as the Prime Minister suggested, they could reflect on the horror which the Luftwaffe had vented on thousands of innocents in those towns and cities of other countries.

No expert powers of divination were required to read between the lines of Mr. Churchill's phrases; they were reminiscent of those of two years ago—when he clothed the stark realism of a desperate situation with words whose candor was at once inspiring and encouraging. However, while they, in all their stern portent, promised nothing but "blood, toil, tears, and sweat," one of his concluding phrases yesterday no doubt is still ringing in millions of ears: "I bring you a message of good cheer; you deserve it; and the facts endorse it." Therein lay the new note of confidence and hope.

That Raid On Japan

WASHINGTON HAS DRAWN THE VEIL on the bombing of Japan to the extent of telling the world that United States army machines did the job. And the roar of the planes' engines disturbed a broadcast in English extolling the delights of living in the land of the Rising Sun—quickly to be replaced by radio appeals to the Nipponese to pray for rain to help to put out the fires. Where the planes took off, where they returned to; how many there were, and what casualties were sustained are still closely guarded secrets. What is important to the peoples of the United Nations is that the war lords of Tokyo now know that mixed with the delights of Japanese life in the future will be the ever-present prospect of more visits from bombing squadrons piloted by men who have their own views on Japan's "co-prosperity sphere" in the Pacific.

Putney Does Not Change

LESS THAN 13,000 OUT OF THE PUTNEY division's electorate of nearly 50,000 cast ballots in last Friday's by-election, which resulted in an easy victory for Mr. Hugh Linstead, a government-supported Conservative, who polled 8,788 against Captain Bernard Acworth's 3,939, the latter running as an Independent.

The contest in the Putney division of the borough of Wandsworth, despite recent victories for Independents in such constituencies as Grantham, Rugby and Wallasey, surprised neither government nor public. Since the redistribution which followed the expansion of the London boroughs at the beginning of the century, Putney has been solidly Conservative, and only once since the end of the first Great War has it been held on a minority vote. That was when party lines were redrawn in 1922, and on that occasion three contestants entered the fray: one Conservative, one Independent Conservative and a Liberal. The two Conservatives between them polled 15,295 against the third candidate's 5,317.

No outright Independent had run in Putney before. In the 1935 general election, however, an Independent Conservative polled 1,021 votes. She was Mrs. Van der Eet, who hired an airplane on one occasion to drop leaflets to propound her views on capital punishment. The riding's representation in the House of Commons has nevertheless been unique: Mr. Samuel Samuel sat from 1913 until his death in 1934, his son, Mr. M. R. A. Samuel, winning the subsequent by-election and rolling up a plurality of more than 11,000 votes in the three-cornered fight seven years ago.

Although Friday's contest attracted only about 25 per cent of the electorate, the Prime Minister added a little flavor to the campaign by charging the Independent—who, by the way, is a retired naval officer—with advocating a separate peace with Japan. Captain Acworth promptly labelled the accusation as "absolutely false" and added that he had warned members of Parliament that Singapore, Rangoon and Surabaya might fall, but "made no suggestion whatever of negotiations with Japan, which would be criminal while we had a base left in the Pacific from which to fight."

If Hitler Uses Gas

IF THE GERMANS RESORT TO THE USE of poison gas against the armies and people of the Soviet Union, Mr. Churchill has warned Hitler and his cohorts that Great Britain will regard such an attack as if it had been made on herself. In other words, if the Fuehrer's long-advertised spring-offensive is to include this barbarous type of warfare—as the Russians have reason to suppose it will—the Royal Air Force is prepared to employ all the paraphernalia at its command to add this much terror to the expansion of aerial bombing which the Prime Minister has promised for the coming months.

Although he was careful to explain that Britain had no intention of settling the pace, Mr. Churchill was in grim earnest when he said the British people were ready to meet consequences that would be part of their sacrifice for Russia. And if the men who are unleashing tons of bombs from the air every night over those cities of the Reich whose industries are essential to the Wehrmacht add poison gas to their cargoes, millions of Germans will at once learn what their eastern neighbors are suffering. But perhaps Hitler will hesitate before he makes good his threat against the valiant armies which he boasted seven months ago were so badly defeated that they never would rise again.

On the other hand, if the Fuehrer throws discretion to the winds, if he ignores Mr. Churchill's threat of a prompt reprisal on the latest scientific lines, he will indeed advertise to the world at large the serious straits to which he has been reduced. No sane man confident of victory would invite internal insurrection which might conceivably follow the first whiff of gas from Royal Air Force bombs. And the German people know now something of the thoroughness with which Britain's flying knights go about their work.

'Empire Day' in Italy

SO MUSSOLINI AND KING VICTOR EMANUEL celebrated Italy's "Empire Day" in Rome on Saturday. Broadcasts from Berlin informed the world that the festivities in the Nazi-dominated land of Il Duce were marked in the capital by the tread of marching men, the blare of bands, and the rattle of blank-firing machine guns, with monarch and premier standing side by side on the Vittorio Emanuele monument in the Piazza Venezia. Saturday, incidentally, was the sixth anniversary of Mussolini's formal proclamation of a new Roman Empire, based on the conquest of Ethiopia—his present to the King.

The German broadcast did not venture any speculation on Emperor Haile Selassie's reaction from the throne room in Addis Ababa; nor will the world know how King Victor felt as he contemplated the fact that all of East Africa, as well as Ethiopia, no longer "enjoyed" the distinction of belonging to the domain which the House of Savoy may still claim as its property—subject to the requirements of the Fuehrer of all the Germans and the "idiosyncracies" of Heinrich Himmler's Gestapo.

As if by way of a postscript to the proceedings in Rome, Giovanni Ansaldo wrote in Il Telegrafo—often a sounding-board for government opinion—that the objectives of the tripartite powers in 1942 were Russia, the Mediterranean and India; after that, the Axis in "besieged Europe" would concentrate on productive economic organization to win what he called the "last battle." To which the small boy would probably add: "Then the band played and the balloon went up." Saturday's final news item from Italy, incidentally, was an announcement that the new Japanese ambassador to the Vatican had presented his credentials to the Pope.

PEACE AS A WAR WEAPON

From Winnipeg Free Press

The Nazi leaders know perfectly that neither the governments nor the majority of the people of Britain, the United States, Canada and the other United Nations, would consider for a moment any peace proposal that this is the case, and their talk of peace is simply an attempt to embarrass and hamper the United Nations by encouraging any amongst their people who may be opposed to, or lukewarm about, the prosecution of the war. That is the whole game, and the fact should be made well known, particularly to unsuspecting people whom it is intended to deceive. Talk peace with men who have no more thought of peace than they had when they began murderous war on Poland, and slaughtered tens of thousands of innocent women and children in Rotterdam. The savagery of those leaders in international crime is seen today in the continued murdering of innocent hostages in France and all over Europe.

Russian Soldier

Following, from a letter of a soldier of the Red Army, translated from Pravda, official organ of the Russian Communist party. The letter breathes the spirit of patriotism of the armies that are driving Hitler's armies rearward, with terrific losses to the invaders:

WHY HE FIGHTS

COMRADES, JUST NOW the order has been read to us with the dawn to battle! Seven hours are left till dawn.

Now it is still night. Sometimes I will remember this night. How over the Donets steppe the moon was shining! How the stars trembled, as if they were shivering in the cold. And over the hills, over the dugouts and the fire lines silence ruled—a cruel, oppressive silence, loaded with the terrors of war. . . . And I was lying in the dugout thinking. . . . And, just like me, a million fighters from the Arctic Ocean to the Black Sea were lying this very night, waiting for the dawn and the battle, thinking about life and death, about their destiny.

I have a great desire to live, to breathe, to walk on the earth, to see the heaven over my head. But I do not want just to live; I do not want just any kind of life.

Yesterday a man crept into our dugout "from the other shore"—he had been a prisoner of the Germans. When he saw us, his people, he began to cry. I looked at that man's back, just his back. It told a story more terrible than all his tales of horror. He had only lived under the German rule one and a half months, and already his back had been bent, just as if his backbone had been broken. All the time during one and a half months he had to go on bowing, excusing himself, hunching his back in expectation of being hit. This was the spine of an unfree man. This was the back of a slave. At this moment it was that I suddenly saw with almost blinding clearness what the Germans are bringing us—a life with a bent, broken back.

Comrade, five hours are left till dawn. In five hours I will start to battle. But not for that little grey hill over there in front of I fight the Germans. No, this struggle goes for something much bigger. It will decide who will be the master of my destiny. I myself or the Germans. Up till now, I, you, everybody was the master of his own destiny. We selected what we liked to do, the profession of our choice, the girl our hearts desired. Free people in a free land, we looked courageously into the eyes of tomorrow.

But when the Germans take over they will have become masters of your destiny. They will trample on your life of today and will steal your tomorrow. They will rule over your life, over your house, over your family. They may even take your house—and you will go away, your back bent, into the rain, into the storm. . . . They need working animals—and they will make you a slave, with a broken, servile backbone.

I do not want that kind of life. It is better to get a bayonet in your throat than a collar around your neck.

A terrible struggle is going on. No compromise is possible now, no choice; we have to strangle, to destroy the Hitler beast, to finish with it once and for all. And when the last Fascist slumps into his grave, when the last roar of the last gun has expired—then like a bad dream the brown nightmare will dissolve and silence will reign, the glorious, steady silence of victory.

And we, comrades, will not only hear the happy rustling of the branches in the forest, we will hear how relieved and happily the whole world will draw in its breath, the whole human race.

AND THEN . . . the reconstructed factories will begin to smoke, life will start to bustle again. A wonderful life, comrade! A life in a free land, in brotherhood with all nations. For such a life even to die is not much.

The dawn, comrade. . . . Over the earth shy, grey shadows are gliding. Never before has life seemed to me so wonderful as in this hour just before the dawn. Yes, I have a great desire to live, to see the victory. I love life very dearly—and that's why I am going to battle now. I go into battle for life, for real life, and not for the life of a slave, but for the happiness of my children, the happiness of my homeland, for my own happiness.

After Shooting Stops, Jap Chemists Plan

Japanese industrial chemists are already preparing for an industrial struggle to follow cessation of the shooting war.

This is the conclusion that may be drawn from three articles published in Japanese, in the Journal of the Chemical Society of Japan, during 1940 and 1941. The author, K. Hosino, research man for the Oriental Rayon Company Ltd., tells how he analyzed nylon, the synthetic plastic fibre that has made the United States independent of silk. After he had determined how the molecules were put together, he duplicated them and then made modifications which he claims are improvements over the American product.

This procedure, reminiscent of prewar tales of how Japanese mechanics would build a duplicate of any machine that Occidental manufacturers would sell to their employers, might give Japanese textile factories the means to compete to great advantage with nylon mills in this country and Europe. Japan has persistently refused to enter into any patent treaty with any foreign country, so that the Du Ponts, originators of nylon and owners of basic patents thereon, will have no protection against Japanese attacks on their business, especially in the export market.

Nylon, the Japanese chemist states as a result of his analysis, is a "polyamide of hexamethylenediamine combined with adipic acid."

If Japan goes into the nylon business, the silk industry, already hard hit first by rayon and then by the cessation of American silk purchases even before the outbreak of war, may never come to full revival. It is reported that hundreds of thousands of mulberry trees have already been felled in Japan, to make room for more food-crop production. Quite possibly these groves may never be replanted. Silk may again become what it was in the Middle Ages and early modern times—luxury for the rich.

SOILLESS GARDENING

Successful growing of plants with their roots dangling in an atmosphere saturated with water vapor, instead of being embedded in soil, has recently been accomplished and is expected to become an important contribution to the science of soilless gardening.

Dr. Walter Carter, entomologist for the Pineapple Research Institute, Honolulu, Hawaii, tells of his adaptation of the method in the technical journal, Phytopathology. In his studies of root damage to pineapple plants caused by infestation with mealybugs, Dr. Carter found that the necessary examination and sampling of roots during the experiment produced considerable mechanical injury. To overcome this difficulty, the water vapor method was developed.

This method consists of setting the plants in holes in the top of a fairly tight wooden box. Inside the box is an atomizer such as is used in air-conditioning apparatus, and in keeping green vegetables from wilting in retail stores. In this device water from an ordinary main goes through a valve to form a fine jet which impinges on a flat plate. The resulting spray keeps the air in the box saturated with water vapor. The pineapple cuttings soon begin to grow and develop roots which hang down inside the box. More vigorous growth is produced, Dr. Carter found, if a nutrient solution is added to the spray. To accomplish this, he connected an eight-quart tank in parallel with the water supply. A needle valve from the main line leads into the bottom of the tank and a pipe from the top makes a T-joint with the pipe leading to the atomizer. The fresh water gradually replaces the nutrient solution. One tankful lasts about three days. The liquid in the tank becomes progressively more dilute but this does no harm to the plants. When the nutrient solution needs replacing, the needle valve is closed and the tank drained and refilled.

The water vapor method has several advantages over other soilless methods. Once set up it is almost automatic, requiring no adjustment of acidity or refilling of jars. Root aeration is better at all times, and no trouble is encountered with algae or other contaminating organisms.

RELIEVE HUMAN SUFFERING SUPPORT THE RED CROSS

GOODBYE, OLD MUG

From Christian Science Monitor

The modern barber shop, dressed in mirrors, chromium, white tile, and lithographed calendars, lacks one decorative touch that still would warm the hearts of many old-timers. That is the rack on the wall filled with gold-lettered shaving mugs belonging to the substantial citizens of the town.

Yet now the State of Missouri, according to dolorous news from Jefferson City, is starting out to remove from the hand of the barber—at least in cities of more than 20,000 population—even the one inconspicuous cup in which he swishes a lather brush over a round cake of soap. The mug and brush may give way to electric lather mixers.

If that is the trend of progress in barber shops perhaps the man who shaves himself must after all, sooner or later, succumb to the gadgetry of electric whiskers just as he has laid aside the straight-edge razor and strop for a safety razor and possibly brushless cream. Has anybody got an old mustache cup to trade for a slightly cracked shaving mug?

No More Burning Wood at Youbou

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, after investigating reports in the Times that wood was being destroyed at Youbou, Cowichan Lake, reports today that burning of the wood was for a few days only, due to shortage of labor. Labor is now available and no wood that can be utilized for household purposes is being destroyed and care is being taken to salvage any and all wood that may be domestically used.

Dr. Carrothers wrote to the firm, asking for an explanation of the newspaper story and the management now assures him there will be no such further occurrence.

Daily Siren Tests

City engineers today began daily routine tests of Greater Victoria air raid sirens but the two-second blast of the sirens did not disturb the public. The tests, which are scheduled for 2 every afternoon, are to assure the circuits and sirens are in order.

So as not to suggest an enemy attack, the sirens are fed only half power. Turning over slowly they divulge a low growl which can only be heard at a radius of a few yards from the sirens. Engineers are sure no one will mistake the low growl for the shrill banshee of a real warning.

No tests will be conducted Sundays.

Oil Debate Settled By Electors, Says Hart

"The oil drilling policy was a live issue in the last election, and the people's opinion was expressed clearly enough on that occasion," Premier John Hart declared today when asked for his views on T. D. Pattullo's latest proposal that a plebiscite be taken on the Peace River oil question.

"Mr. Pattullo outlined his policy to the last election," Mr. Hart continued, "and was quoted in the Vancouver Sun on Oct. 4 last as follows:

"Let me say that the government has no intention of going into the retail business of selling oil. We propose on finding oil to enter into arrangements for its disposition."

ROYALTY

Referring to this pronouncement, Mr. Hart stated:

"The only practical arrangement that could be made would be an arrangement with an oil company possessing the necessary organization and distributing facilities who could and would fix the price as was done in this province last year. If, however, arrangements were made on a royalty basis, the public's interest would be fully protected because the province would become a partner in any wells brought in, without gambling the millions necessary to explore the area. Already this province has spent $600,000 in oil drilling. The royalty policy has been adopted by the province of Alberta, the State of California and other governments.

"In view of the shortage in gasoline and oil for war purposes, the government of this province offered the potential resources of the Peace River district to the Dominion government because they could afford to spend the necessary millions of dollars required to prove the territory. Any oil discovered would be free from taxation and royalties for the duration of the war, which exemptions from royalties and taxation would be a contribution by the province to the cost of the war. At the termination of this period the province would collect taxes and royalties equal to those collected in any part of the continent, thus protecting the public's interest.

"Mr. Pattullo objects to this offer without there first being a plebiscite.

"I am sure that this government has the backing of the people of the province when we say that we are prepared not only to offer the oil and gas resources to the Dominion, but every available stick and stone that may be necessary for the winning of the war. Nothing else matters.

"Inasmuch as Mr. Pattullo referred to my letter to him, in reply to his communication dealing with the plebiscite, I feel that it is only fair that the public should be fully acquainted with the text of my correspondence."

HART TO PATTULLO

Following is Mr. Hart's letter to Mr. Pattullo:

"I acknowledge your letter of the 22nd instant and note what you say regarding oil drilling, particularly the suggestion that the oil policy be determined by a referendum.

"In 1918-23 the government expended large sums on oil drilling without a referendum. Again, in 1938, drilling commenced without consulting the electorate, the cost of which to date is approximately $500,000. During the last election the oil drilling policy was a very live issue. It was discussed very fully, and no doubt considerably influenced the result.

"The possibilities of the oil and gas resources in the Peace River district were offered by the provincial government to the Dominion for exploration and development for war purposes. Should arrangements be not made with the Dominion, further consideration will be given the matter, keeping in mind the best interests of the people.

"In view of the circumstances outlined, I may say that this government is prepared to take full responsibility for any policy that may be determined."

Band Concerts For Red Cross

As a slight token of the appreciation that the officers and men of all Canada's fighting forces have for the Canadian Red Cross, an appreciation founded on practical experience of the great work this organization is doing, bands of the forces in Victoria—the Royal Canadian Navy, Canadian Army and the Royal Canadian Air Force, will give concerts in downtown Victoria this week.

The first concert was given by the Royal Canadian Navy band today at 2.30 on View. Besides playing a number of naval and popular airs, the navy will give a presentation of ceremonial drill.

Tuesday at the same place and the same hour, the band of the Canadian Army will give a concert, and Friday at the same place and the same hour, the band of the Royal Canadian Air Force will play.

The thanks of the Canadian Red Cross campaign committee is extended to Commodore W. J. R. Beech of the Royal Canadian Navy, Brigadier L. W. Miller, D.O.C., and Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson of the Royal Canadian Air Force for their consent to allow the bands to play.

The concerts will be given to further draw attention to the appeal of the Canadian Red Cross for urgently needed funds to continue its great work of alleviating suffering and helping those in need carried out in the name of the Canadian people without regard to race, color or creed.

Victorians will be asked for $90,000 and advance indications are that the appeal will be answered by all.

May Publish Plans Of New Gas Mask

Because hundreds of persons wanted to buy Dr. C. S. Beal's improvised gas mask on display at the United Nations Victory Fair Tuesday night, Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, said today he was trying to make arrangements to issue the plans so the public could make their own masks.

Dr. Beal said he was quite willing to release the plans and 25 masks had already been made by Saanich A.R.P. wardens. He emphasized, however, the mask was inferior to the military respirator, and was not intended to replace it but merely to give the public protection while the mass-produced respirators were unavailable.

The improvised masks cost about $2 each and are made from a hot water bottle or inner tube, a tin can, transparent plastic for the eye pieces and chemically treated charcoal for the active agent.

The masks have been tested in gas chambers and found to give complete protection from the gases of modern warfare. They are slightly larger than the respirators approved by the government although their design is basically the same. Dr. Beal said there was nothing new in his masks.

E. Savannah assisted in perfecting and testing the Beal mask.

Women 'Commandos' to Fight
Rumors in U.S. and Canada

By MARGARET ECKER

OTTAWA (CP)—Plans for greater co-operation and understanding between the women of Canada and the United States were formulated by the joint conference of the Women's Canadian Committee on International Relations and the American Women's Committee on the Cause and Cure of War which ended Saturday.The American delegates took back with them to the 2,000,000 women they represent in all parts of the United States the framework of a permanent joint committee of the two organizations which will "assist in strengthening the Allied effort to win the war and in furthering co-operation for the establishment of a world of law, justice and order."European women living in the United States and the women of Latin American countries will be asked to become part of the movement.

RUMOR COMMANDOS

Commandos—defined as "trouble shooters who will be rushed to rumor centres"—will be launched by the women as a means of fighting propaganda which seeks to split the Allied countries.The commandos were suggested by Mrs. Grace Allen
Bangs of New York. To combat
"whispering campaigns" which may break out in the United States, two or three Canadian women will be sent to the district to speak against any rumors that may be spread.Mrs. Malbone Graham of Los Angeles suggested that the women organize "rumor laboratories" to analyze anti-Allied propaganda.The joint committee will also work toward a conference which would bring together women of North America and South America.Before the three-day conference ended, delegates planned an educational campaign for greater understanding between the two countries which will be launched through women's pages of newspapers, national women's magazines, bulletins sent out by the committee, study groups, women's fraternities and speaking tours.

CANADA'S WAR EFFORT

"If the people of the United States could learn as much about Canada's war effort as we have in the past few days, there would be an enormous growth of understanding between our two countries," said Mrs. Frederic Beggsand ushers were Second Lieut.
Donald Wyness and Mr. Kenneth

LONDON, Canada: One of the most common causes of constipation is lack of the right kind of "bulk" in the diet. If this is your case, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN supplies the "bulk" you must have to become regular as clockwork.

Eat ALL-BRAN every morning as a cereal with milk, cream or fruit, or baked in delicious muffins, drink plenty of water, and see if your "trouble" doesn't disappear! In two convenient sizes at your nearest grocer's. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Whites 'Lost Face' In Burma, Says Eve Curie

TORONTO (CP)—Russian industrial workers, spurred on by their slogan to "Beat Hitler in 1942" are at work 12 hours a day, seven days a week, Eve Curie, scientist and author, recently returned from the Russian and Far Eastern fronts, said in an address here Saturday night.

Maps of battle terrain and communiques from the fighting front do not show the greatest accomplishment of the Russian military machine—the destruction of the German army's morale, Miss Curie said, quoting Russian military leaders.

"Women are doing heavy factory work of the type that was always allotted to men, yet there is no complaining," she said. "They are willing to do anything to win the war. I don't think there is a single person in Russia who is both healthy and idle."

The white race suffered an "irreparable loss of face" in the Far East with the invasion of Burma, Miss Curie said, commenting on her experiences in Burma at the time of the Japanese attack.

"The Chinese have seen both the British and Americans pushed back by the Japanese and the white race has lost face with the Chinese. Never again will the Chinese permit themselves to be dominated or exploited by the white race."

The invasion of Burma was a game with "children playing with savages," she said. Japanese mastery of jungle warfare combined with the treachery of many of the Burmese overwhelmed the defenders.

St. Joseph's Juniors Net $100 at Tea

A delightful tea and musical program was enjoyed Saturday afternoon by the many guests attending the "mother and daughter" tea held at "Riflington," Beach Drive, home of Mrs. Reed Paige Clark, under the sponsorship of the Junior Women's Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital.

The handsome sum of $100 was netted for the organization's funds.

Profusions of spring flowers made a colorful setting in the large reception rooms and the tea table was centred with a bowl arranged with tulips in the auxiliary colors, red and white. Mrs. Clark was assisted in receiving by Mrs. G. W. LaCroix, general convenor of the affair, and presiding at the tea table during the afternoon were Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. F. M. Bryant, Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mrs. H. A. Goward, Mrs. H. B. Olson and Mrs. F. G. Amyot.

The musical program included several charming vocal selections by Miss Elaine Basanta and her accompanist, Miss Phyllis Hick, received much applause for her additional piano solos. Members of the auxiliary who assisted in serving the tea were the Misses Ruth Windau, Joan Hall, Mary Smith, Aileen Baines, Rhoda Goward, Geraldine Murray, Aileen Mansfield and Gladwyn Beasley.

COLUMBA UNIT
The Columba Unit of the Red Cross will meet in the Strawberry Vale Hall Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. New workers are cordially invited to attend.

Orange Lodges to Hold Convention

Local committees, representing the Loyal Orange Association and the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, have completed arrangements for the provincial convention to be held May 19, 20 and 21 at the Empress Hotel. The annual session of the Right Worshipful Grand Lodge of the L.O.B.A. will be under the direction of the Grand Mistress, Mrs. Isabel McLeary, Cranbrook, B.C.

Delegates are expected from all parts of the province. Other officers are Mrs. S. Rowe, Revelstoke; Mrs. M. Fowler, Vancouver; Mrs. W. Gibbard, Mission City; Mrs. M. Paterson, Victoria; Mrs. A. Middleton, Vancouver; Mrs. M. Harrar, North Vancouver; Mrs. J. Woods, Rossland; Mrs. J. Cooper, North Vancouver; Mrs. A. Doughty, Trail; Miss H. Currie, Chilliwack; Mrs. L. Starrak, Port Coquitlam; Mrs. M. Hope, Princeton, and Mrs. H. Allen, Vancouver.

Previous to the official opening of the Grand Lodge sessions of the L.O.A. and L.O.B.A. Grand Lodges, delegates and members of both associations will attend divine service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, May 20, at 8.45 a.m. Local activities on the agenda will include the exemplification of the Junior Orange degree work by Pride of Victoria Lodge No. 55, with Miss Irene Noel presiding.

A combined degree team of the L.O.B.A. lodges in the city will initiate a class of candidates with Mrs. E. Hume as W.M., assisted by Mrs. V. Keatley and Mrs. M. Leask and their officers.

At the conclusion of the session, May 21, a banquet and dance will be held in the Crystal ballroom. A limited number of tickets are available and include dinner and the dance. The proceeds will go towards the Loyal Protestant Home for Children at New Westminster. Invitations are being issued to members of the three services to be guests of the local lodges at the dance.

In British Columbia as well as in every other province in the Dominion, with the exception of Quebec, the association has been largely responsible for the maintenance of a Protestant Home, where any child of Protestant faith, through the loss of parents or some other reason, is taken care of, educated and trained in the principles of Christian citizenship.

The home in New Westminster is a monument to the faithfulness and loyalty of the L.O.B.A., who in conjunction with the Loyal True Blue Association and the Loyal Orange Association, have built and equipped at a cost of approximately $90,000, one of the finest institutions of its kind in the Dominion.

Membership Tea At 'Y' Wednesday

At the Y.W.C.A. annual spring membership tea, Wednesday, Mrs. S. H. Frame will give brief notes of the unusual experiences and new responsibilities faced by the Y.W.C.A. in various war zone countries. Dr. Olga Jardine, president, will tell of the latest developments through the work in England and Canada. Mrs. John Hart and Mrs. P. S. Gore will pour tea.

WEDDINGS

CHARLEBOIS—MURRAY

In the rectory of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, the Willows, Saturday evening at 8.30, Rev. Father J. R. Buckley united in marriage Margaret Rodger, daughter of the late Mr. David Murray and Mrs. Murray, 710 Princess Avenue, and P.O. Martin, C. Charlebois, R.C.N.V.R., son of the late Mr. A. L. Charlebois, and Mrs. Charlebois, 1515 Camosun Street.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. A. Rodger, the bride wore a powder blue ensemble with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of Tullisman roses and freesias. The bridesmaid was Miss Eva Murray, Vancouver, dressed in beige with a corsage bouquet of pale pink carnations, and Mr. Gordon Smith was best man.

Lilac, narcissi and tulips were used in decoration of the rectory and at the home of Mr. A. Rodgers, Amphion Street, where the informal reception was held. Mrs. Murray was gowned in black and white printed sheer with matching accessories, and Mrs. Charlebois wore a jacket frock of blue printed sheer, both wearing corsage bouquets of sweet peas.

The wedding cake centred the supper table, with vases of pink sweet peas and pink tapers. The bride left for the honeymoon on the mainland in a black suit with black and white accessories, and silver fox fur. Mr. and Mrs. Charlebois will make their home in Victoria.

RENDLE—BANAK

The Bishop's House, View Street, was the scene of a quiet wedding May 2 when Bishop J. C. Cody united in marriage Ann Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Banak, Camrose, Alta., and Mr. Cyril Roy Rendle, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rendle, Kisler Avenue, Mount Tolmie.

The bride wore a white triple sheer gown, her embroidered veil being caught by a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of Tullisman roses and lily of the valley. Miss Helen Banak and Miss Kay Rendle, sisters of the principals, were bridesmaids, their blue and pink chiffon gowns being complemented by matching net headresses and bouquets of pink carnations and mauve sweet peas. Messrs. Kenneth and Laurence Rendle were their brother's attendants.

A small reception was held for relatives and intimate friends after the ceremony at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rendle left for a motor trip up-Island and on their return will live in Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. K. Rendle of Lake Cowichan were guests at the wedding.

GWYER—RAY

LONDON, Ont. — From her home in Victoria, B.C. to London Ont., came Lillian Elizabeth Ray to be married to Staff Q.M.-Sgt. Walter Gwyer, R.C.O.C., also of Victoria. The wedding was a charming event of May 6 at Centennial United Church. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. H. E. Ray and the late William Ray of Victoria, and the bridegroom the only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gwyer, also of Victoria.

Rev. R. T. Richards performed the ceremony, for which the bridal music was played by Mrs. Theodore Gray. The attendants were Fusiller and Mrs. J. E. Barclay.

Given in marriage by William Barclay, the bride wore a pretty gown of powder blue in a two-piece design, with a hat and accessories in dusty pink. An orchid corsage was worn. Mrs. Barclay chose old gold-crepe, also in two-piece style with brown

South Park Aids Junior Red Cross

A largely-attended tea was held recently in the auditorium of South Park School, which netted the sum of $70 for the Junior Red Cross. Guests were welcomed by Principal A. A. Campbell and teachers of the school, and the following delightful program was rendered by the pupils:

Junior Red Cross drill by girls of division 7; song, "Good Luck," by Dorothy Wheeler, Joy Evans, Jackie Macintyre, Fred Merriam, Jim Giles and Billy McIsaac; health play by pupils of division 6; dance, "Rippling Taps," by Roberta Graham, Shirley Anderson and Jerry Eastwood; Maypole dance by pupils of divisions 3 and 4; song, "Rose O'Day," by Valerie Leese and Colleen Erb; dance, "Waltz Clog," by Lorna Sinclair; choral reading, "He and She," by division 8. Mrs. I. Salmon was at the piano. Announcers were: Keith Notte and Keith Duncan. Program was arranged by Miss Mae Murray.

Among the guests present were: Trustees Mrs. A. S. Christie, F. G. Mulliner and J. S. McMillan.

Tea was served by girls of the Junior Red Cross groups in charge of Miss J. M. Skillings and Miss May Croft. In receipt of customs was Miss Ella Beane. Moving pictures were shown in an adjoining room by H. R. Dawson and G. H. Bevan-Fritchard.

The novelty stall was a great attraction, and all articles were donated by pupils and teachers. The success of the afternoon was due to the interest and enthusiasm of the children of the school and the loyal support of parents and friends.

Red Cross Notes

OAK BAY UNIT

On Friday, May 15, from 3.15 to 5 p.m., open house will be held in the workrooms in Oak Bay Avenue. Samples of work completed by the various groups and branches will be on display, and a tea will be served in aid of the fund for prisoners of war. The workrooms will be operating as usual. A hearty invitation is extended to everyone to visit and inspect the work.

CORDOVA BAY UNIT

The Cordova Bay Red Cross Unit will meet at the home of Mrs. B. S. Dyer, "The Lookout," Cordova Bay Road, on Tuesday, at 2.30.

St. George's Hall, Cadboro Bay, will be en fete Wednesday for the Red Cross bazaar. The opening at 2.30 will be performed by Mr. Paterson and it is hoped that residents and the general public will attend to make the first affair of its kind in the district an outstanding success.

The View Royal unit realized approximately $50 May 8 when Mr. H. J. Pendray showed his travel pictures. A home-cooking sale was also held, as well as two contests. Mrs. C. A. Pope is the convenor of the above unit. Mrs. W. Duval had charge of the cooking stall, and was assisted by Mrs. McKinnel and Mrs. A. Facey.

Mrs. Gertrude Huntly Green returned to Victoria Sunday after spending the last week in Vancouver, adjudicating in the Musical Festival. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. James D. Munro.

Clubwomen's News Engagements

V.O.N. board meeting, Tuesday at 10.30 a.m. in the board room of the Pemberton Building.

W.A. to Army and Navy Veterans will hold a special meeting on Wednesday at 2.30 in the clubroom, Wharf Street. A card game will be held Thursday at 8 at Room 301, Union Building.

The annual meeting of Victoria Chapter Registered Nurses' Association will be held at St. Joseph's Nurses' residence, May 12 at 8. Dr. Hutton of the resident staff of the Jubilee Hospital will honor the members with musical selections.

A "blossom tea" will be held by the Daughters of Pity at the nurses' home of the Jubilee Hospital, Saturday, from 3.30 to 6, in aid of the children's ward of the hospital. In addition to other attractions there will be a musical program with the following artists taking part: Mandolin trio, Mrs. Jeffery Newstead, Mrs. S. L. Camsusa and Miss May Warnock; soloists, Mrs. Bert Noel, Miss Brydie Eilers and Miss Lorraine Cornish.

An enjoyable bridge party was held by the Women's Auxiliary to the B.C. Channel Islanders Society Saturday evening in the institute rooms, Fort Street, under the convenship of Mrs. C. P. Pearson. Mrs. Rowbottom and Mrs. Renouf served the refreshments. Lady Burdon, O.B.E., kindly consented to draw the lucky ticket for the hand-made tealcloth donated by Mrs. Bashford. Winners of the bridge prizes were: Mrs. P. Blakney, Mrs. E. B. Stoney, Mr. J. Moss, Mr. H. Monaghan. The proceeds of the evening, totalling $34.20, will be used in sending clothing and comforts to the Channel Island refugees, now destitute in England. A general meeting of the society will be held Thursday, May 21.

Final arrangements for a garden tea at the home of Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, 3125 Beach Drive, were made at the meeting of the Pas-a-Pas Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Crawford, 1270 Dallas Road. It was decided to have several attractions at the tea, all proceeds being for war purposes. Mrs. Douglas Gregson presided and Mrs. A. M. Henry gave a talk on "Keep Smiling." The president reported that Pas-a-Pas had served tea four times to the after-church meetings of the Y.P.D. and friends in the services. It was decided to decorate the Sunday school hall for the C.G.I.T. "Moon Festival," May 29, and to take charge of refreshments for the "June Treat" for the primary department. Wool convenor, E. Venn, asked that all articles be turned in not later than June 1, so that new undertakings could be started in September. War-time refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. N. Grant, Georgina McKay and May Warnock.

Owing to Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. meeting falling on a public holiday, date has been changed to Tuesday, May 26, at 7.30.

A "Blossom Tea" will be held by the Daughters of Pity at the Nurses' Home of the Jubilee Hospital on Saturday, May 16, from 3.30 to 6 in aid of the children's ward of the hospital. In addition to other attractions there will be a musical program with the following artists taking part: Mandolin trio, Mrs. Jeffery Newstead, Mrs. S. L. Camsusa and Miss May Warnock; soloists, Mrs. Bert Noel, Miss Brydie Eilers and Miss Lorraine Cornish.

Mrs. P. E. Corby, the treasurer, at the meeting of the Auxiliary to the Canadian Forestry Corps (Overseas) announced $200 had been added to the funds as the result of the recent tea, plant sale, and home cooking stall. Mrs. S. W. Raven presided and reports of committees were given and the parcels committee representatives of the Forestry Corps companies, were authorized to send a consignment of coffee overseas. Mrs. F. W. Field was chosen to represent Co. No. 18 on the executive during the absence of Mrs. P. Belson, Mrs. C. P. Smith was elected second vice-president. A social afternoon for members will be held next Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. W. Field, 749 Market Street. Mrs. W. Sloan was asked to purchase more wool for the knitters of the auxiliary. Mrs. C. P. Smith was hostess at the tea hour, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Yates. A new member, Mrs. Vickers, was welcomed. Miss B. Morley and Mrs. H. Arnold Morley, Mrs. Smith Noel and Mrs. Vickers, will assist the Red Cross drive this week, as delegates from the auxiliary.

GEORGE—UNWIN
Mr. and Mrs. J. Unwin, 1765 Ross Street, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Bernice Daphne, to Harold Corbett George, eldest son of Alderman and Mrs. P. E. George, 3171 Highview Street. The wedding will take place at St. Matthias Church Wednesday, June 19, at 8.30 p.m.

There, too, go I!

Wherever war with its black woes
Or flood, or fire, or famine goes
There, too, go I!

Wherever strength and skill can bring Surcease to human suffering
There, too, am I!

I go wherever men may dare,
I go wherever woman's care
And love can live—

If earth in any quarter quakes
Or pestilence its ravage makes My help I give.

The cross which on my arm I wear,
The flag which o'er my breast I bear
Are but the sign;

I am the ambassador for you
I do what you would surely do
If you were there!

Wherever the fires of war burn most fiercely . . . wherever suffering is greatest and danger deadliest . . . there, like the spirit of God upon earth, move the fearless, selfless men and women of the Red Cross.

Today, with hands outstretched towards you—eloquent, pleading hands —they ask your unstinted support to help them keep alight their lamp of humanity in a dark and stricken world.

Honour them by giving generously—it is your privilege!

Churchill's 'Message of Good Cheer'

LONDON (CP) — Following is a partial text of Prime Minister Churchill's address Sunday:

I have served you for two years today as the King's first minister. Therefore I thought it would be a good thing if I should talk to you on a broadcast to look back a little on what we have come through, to consider how we stand now, and to peer cautiously, but at the same time resolutely into the future.

The tremendous period through which we have passed has certainly been full of anxieties and exertions. It has been marked by many misfortunes and disappointments.

At this time two years ago the Germans were beating down Holland and Belgium by unprovoked, brutal, merciless aggression, and very soon there came upon us the total defeat of France and the fatal surrender of the men of Bordeaux.

Mussolini, the Italian miscalculator, thought he saw his chance of a cheap and easy triumph of rich plunder. He struck in the back a dying France and at what he believed was a doomed Britain.

All the world, even our best friends, thought our end had come.

It fell to me to express the sentiments and resolves of the British nation in that supreme crisis of its life. That was an honor far beyond any dreams or ambitions I had nursed, and one that cannot be taken away.

For a whole year after the fall of France we stood alone, keeping the flag of freedom flying and the hopes of the world alive.

'We Conquered Italian Empire'

We conquered the Italian empire. We destroyed or captured almost all of Mussolini's African army. We liberated Abyssinia. We have so far successfully protected Palestine, Syria, Persia and Iraq in German designs. We suffered previous reverses in going to the aid of the heroic Greeks. We bore unflinchingly many heavy blows abroad, and still more in our cities at home.

And all this time, cheered and helped by President Roosevelt and the United States, we stood alone, neither faltering nor flagging.

Where are we now? Can anyone doubt it, worthy of it as we shall be, will have our future in our hands?

As in the last war, we are moving through many reverses and defeats to complete and final victory.

We have only to endure and persevere to conquer.

Now we are no longer unarmed. We are well armed.

Now we are not alone. We have mighty allies. . . there can only be one end. When it will come, or how it will come, I cannot tell. . .

As has happened before in our island's history, by remaining steadfast and unyielding — stubborn if you will — against a continental tyrant, we reached a moment when the tyrant made a fatal blunder. . .

Even Hitler makes mistakes sometimes. In June last, without the slightest provocation and in breach of a pact of non-aggression, he invaded the lands of the Russian people.

At the time he had the strongest army in the world, trained in war flushed with incredible, unbroken success and equipped with limitless munitions and the most modern weapons. He also had secured to himself the advantages of surprise and treachery. . .

Russians Resolved Never to Give In

The Russians under the warrior chief Stalin sustained losses which no other country or government ever has borne in so short a time and lived. But they, like us, were resolved never to give in. They poured out their blood upon their native soil. They kept their faces to the foe.

From the very first day when they were attacked, when no one could tell how things would go, we made a brotherhood with them and a solemn compact to destroy Nazism and all its works.

Then Hitler made his second grand blunder. He forgot about the winter. There is a winter, you know, in Russia.

For a good many months the temperature is apt to fall very low. There is snow, and all that. Hitler forgot about this Russian winter. He must have been very loosely educated. We all heard about it at school, but he forgot it.

I never made such a bad mistake as that. So the winter came and fell upon his ill-clad armies and with the winter came the valiant Russian counter-attacks.

No one can say with certainty how many millions of Germans already have perished in Russia

"I wish to make it plain"

"Even I did not make such mistake"

"the facts endorse it"

and its snow—certainly more than were killed in the whole four and one-quarter years of the last war.

So besotted is this man in his lust for blood and conquest, so blasting is the power he wields over the lives of Germans, that he even blurted out the other day that his armies would be better clothed and his locomotives better prepared for their second winter in Russia than they were for the first.

There was an admission about the length of the war that struck a chill into German hearts as cold as the icy winds of Russia.

Armies of Russia Stronger Than Ever

Certain it is that the Russian armies are stronger than they were last year, that they have learned by hard experience to fight the Germans in the field, that they are well equipped and their constancy and courage unquenched.

That is what is in front of Hitler. . .

He leaves behind him a Europe starving and in chains, a Europe in which his execution squads are busy in a dozen countries every day, a Europe which has learned to hate the Nazi name as no name ever has been hated in the history of mankind, a Europe ripe for revolt whenever opportunity comes.

But this is not all he left behind. We are on his tracks, and so is the United States. Already the Royal Air Force has set about him. A British and presently an American bombing offensive against Germany will be one of the principal features in this year's war.

Now is the time to use our increasingly superior air strength to strike hard and continually at the home front in the Germany from which so much evil has leaped out upon the world and which is the foundation of the whole enormous German invasion of Russia.

Now, while the German armies will be bleeding and burning up their strength against the 2,000-mile Russian line and when news of casualties by the hundreds of thousands is streaming back to the German Reich. Now is the time to bring home to the German people the wickedness of their rulers by destroying under their very eyes the factories and seaports on which their war effort depends.

German propaganda has been appealing to British public opinion to put a stop to these severe forms of warfare. . .

Hitler Mingles Threats With His Whinings

Herr Hitler himself has not taken at all kindly to this treatment and he has been good enough to mingle terrible threats with his whinings. . .

Herr Hitler has even called into question the humanity of the grim developments of war. What a pity this conversion did not take place before he bombed Warsaw or massacred 20,000 Dutch folk in defenceless Rotterdam or wreaked his cruel vengeance upon the open city of Belgrade.

In those days he used to boast that for every ton of bombs we dropped on Germany he would drop 10 times or even 100 times as many on Britain. . .

But now it is the other way round. We are in position to carry into Germany many times the tonnage of high explosives which he can send here.

The accuracy of our bombing has nearly doubled and with continued practice I expect it will improve still more.

Moreover, at the same time our methods of dealing with his raiders over here have more than repaid the immense care and science bestowed upon them and the very large scale upon which they are applied.

During April we destroyed about one-tenth of all raiding aircraft which assailed our island whereas, acting on a scale several times as big, the losses we have suffered have been proportionately far smaller. You will remember how German propaganda films, thinking to terrorize neutral countries and glorifying in their devastating violence, were wont to show rows of great German bombers being loaded up with bombs, then casting showers of bombs down upon defenceless towns and villages, choking them in smoke and flame.

All this was represented to neutral countries as the German way of making war. All this was intended to make the world believe resistance to German will was impossible and subjugation and slavery was the safest and easiest road.

'Our Stern Duty' To Drop Bombs

Those days are gone. . . We have a long list of German cities in which vital industries of the German war machine are established. All these it will be our stern duty to deal with as we have already dealt with Luebeck, with Rostock, and a half-dozen important places.

The civil population of Germany have, however, an easy way of escape from these severities. All they have to do is to leave cities where munition work is being carried on, abandon their work and go out into the fields and watch the home fires burning from a distance.

In this way they may find time for meditation and repentance. There they may remember the millions of Russian women and children they have driven out to perish in snows, and mass executions of peasants and prisoners of war which in varying scales they are inflicting upon so many of the ancient and famous peoples of Europe.

There they may remember that it is the villainous Hitlerite regime which is responsible for dragging Germany through misery and slaughter to ultimate ruin—and the tyrant's overthrow is the first step to world liberation.

We now wait in what is a stormy lull, but still a lull, before the hurricane bursts again in its fullest fury on the Russian front. We cannot tell when it will begin.

We have not so far seen any evidence of those great concentrations of German masses which usually precede their large scale offensive. They may have been successfully concealed or may not yet have been launched eastward. It is now May 10 and days are passing. We send our salutations to the Russian armies and we hope that the thousands of tanks and airplanes which have been successfully carried to their aid from Britain and America will be a useful contribution to their own magnificently developed munitions resources.

There, however, is one serious matter which I must mention to you. The Soviet government have expressed to us the view that the Germans in the desperation of their assault may make use of poison gas against the armies and people of Russia. We are ourselves firmly resolved not to use this odious weapon unless it is used first by the Germans.

Knowing our Hun, however, we have not neglected to make preparations on a formidable scale. I wish to make it plain that we shall treat the unprovoked use of poison gas against our

Russian ally exactly as if it were used against ourselves and if we are satisfied that this new outrage has been committed by Hitler we will use our great and growing air superiority in the west to carry gas warfare on the largest possible scale far and wide against the military objectives in Germany.

Meanwhile our deliveries of tanks, aircraft, and munitions to Russia from Britain and the United States continue upon a full scale. We have the duty of escorting convoys to their destination and our sailors and merchant seamen face the fearful storms of the Arctic Circle, lurking U-boats and shore-based aircraft as well as attacks by German destroyers and surface craft, with their customary steadfastness and faithful courage.

So far, though not without some loss both to supply ships and their escorts, every convoy has successfully fought its way through and we intend to persevere and fight it out on this northern route to the utmost of our strength.

Is there anything else we can do to take the weight off Russia; we are urged from many quarters to invade the continent of Europe and so form a second front.

Naturally I shall not disclose what our intentions are but there is one thing I will say. I welcome the militant, aggressive spirit of the British nation so strongly shared across the Atlantic Ocean. Is it not far better that in the 32nd month of this hard war we should find this general desire to come to the closest grips with the enemy than that there should be any signs of war weariness? . . .

This week two islands have been in our minds. One is very large, the other very small—Madagascar and Malta.

Madagascar Decision Taken 3 Months Ago

We have found it necessary to take precautions to prevent Madagascar falling into enemy hands by some dishonorable and feeble drifting or connivance by Vichy like that which injured us so much in Indo-China. It is three months since the decision was taken and more than two months since the expedition left these shores.

Its first task was to secure the splendid harbor of Diego Suarez, which, if it had fallen into Japanese hands, might have paralyzed all our communications with India and the Middle East.

While the troops were on the sea, I must tell you, I felt a shiver every time I saw the word "Madagascar" in the newspapers. All these articles with diagrams and measured maps, showing how very important it was for us to take Madagascar and forestall the Japanese and be first for once as they said, filled me with apprehension.

There was no question of leakage or a breach of confidence. As they say, great minds think alike, but shrewd surmise may be as dangerous as leakage and it was with considerable relief that I learned that the difficulties of our soldiers and their losses had not been aggravated and that the operation had been swiftly and effectually carried out.

We hold these places in trust for that gallant France which we have known and marched with and whose restoration to her place among great powers of the world is indispensable to the future of Europe. Madagascar rests under safeguard of the United Nations. Vichy, in the grip of Germans, has been made to bluster. The France that rose at St. Nazaire, and will one day rise in indelible fury against the Nazis, understands.

The smaller island is Malta, a tiny rock of history and romance. Today we welcome back to our shores Gen. Dobbie, for nearly two years the heroic defender of Malta.

The burden which he has borne so honorably for so long entitles him to release and repose.

Enemy Aircraft Moving Eastward

In Lord Gort we have a new impulse. His work at Gibraltar has been of the highest order. It was not his fault that our armies did not have their chance in France. He is a grand fighter. For the moment the terrific air attack on Malta has slackened. It looks as if a lot of enemy aircraft had moved eastward. I wonder why. If so, this supreme air battle for Malta upon which the enemy have concentrated such immense preponderance of strength, and for which they have sacrificed so many of those aircraft which they now have to count more carefully, will have been definitely won.

But other perils remain and I know of no man in the British Empire to whom I would sooner entrust the combating and beating down of those perils than Lord Gort.

If we look back today over the course of the war as it has so far unfolded we can see that it seems to divide itself into four very clearly defined chapters.

The first ended with the overrunning by the Nazis of western Europe and the fall of France. The second chapter, Britain alone, ended with Hitler's attack upon Russia.

I would call the third chapter which then began "the Russian glory." May it long continue. The fourth chapter opened at Pearl Harbor when the military party in Japan treacherously attacked the United States and Great Britain in the Far East. That is where we are now.

The aggression of Italy in 1940 had carried war from Europe to Africa. The aggression of Japan has involved all Asia and in one way or another has drawn in or will draw in the whole of the American continent. Thus the struggle has become worldwide and the fate of all states and nations and their future is at stake.

This latest chapter of "Universal War" confronts us with many difficulties and immense complications. But is there any thoughtful, sensible person who cannot see how vastly and decisively awful balances have turned to the advantage of the cause of freedom?

The Japanese, taking advantage of the fact that the United States had striven for so long to keep the peace, have seized more easily and more quickly than they expected their lands of booty and desire in the East Indian archipelago.

Henceforward they will find resistance stiffening up all their widely-spread fronts.

Japs Cannot Afford Coral Sea Losses

They can ill afford losses such as those they have sustained in the naval action of the Coral Sea. So far we have no detailed account, but if only from the lies the Japanese themselves have felt compelled to tell of sinkings of battleships of the Warship class it is obvious that a most vigorous and successful battle has been fought by United States and Australian forces.

Japanese war lords cannot be indifferent to the losses of aircraft inflicted upon them at so many points and particularly off the northern coasts of Australia and in their repulse at Colombo and Trincomalee.

At the start the pent-up, saved-up resources of Japan were bound to prevail in the Far Eastern theatre.

greater than the power of Japan. And we also will make our contribution to the final defeat and punishment of this ambitious and greedy nation.

Time will, however, be needed before the true strengths on either side of the eastern war become manifest.

I am not prone to make predictions, but I have no doubt tonight that British and American seapower will grip and hold the Japanese and that overwhelming air power, supported by covering military operations, will lay them low.

This would come to pass very much sooner should anything happen to Hitler in Europe.

Therefore, tonight I give you a message of good cheer.

You deserve it and the facts endorse it.

But be it good cheer or be it bad cheer it will make no difference to us. We shall drive on to the end and do our duty, win or die.

God helping us, we can do no other.

Canada Prepares For Gas Warfare

OTTAWA (CP) — Chemical warfare holds an important place in air raid precaution instruction throughout Canada, Dr. R. J. Manion, A.R.P. director, said Sunday night, commenting on mention by Prime Minister Winston Churchill of the possibility that German forces may soon start using poison gas.

Two booklets on chemical warfare have been prepared by Dr. I. M. Rabinowitch of McGill University, Montreal, for use in A.R.P. instruction, and one of these publications already is on the press, Dr. Manion said.

Officials declined to discuss the full extent of Canada's preparations to meet gas attacks, but it is known a number of Canadian firms are engaged in the manufacture of gas masks.

Instruction in the use of gas masks is given members of both the active and reserve army at an early stage of their training.

List Officers From Winnipeg Held at Hongkong

OTTAWA (CP) — A government announcement issued Sunday night listed the names of 35 Canadian officers who are stated to be prisoners of war at Hongkong.

The list was based on a cable received from the British ambassador at Chungking, China, and another cable from Lt. Col. Ride at Kungking, China.

The announcement said the cables also mentioned about 640 other ranks but gave no names.

The government statement accompanying the list of names said "both cables would seem to be based on the same unofficial source of information. The information in the embassy telegram was apparently secured through Col. Ride and is assumed to be based on the personal recollection of himself and others."

It added: "The omission of names therefore should not be construed as unfavorable."

The statement said "the information in these two cables has not been confirmed by the Japanese government either through the International Red Cross or through the protecting power. At the same time, it is also noted the information relates only to 35 officers and about 640 other ranks in the one named camp at North Point.

The list of names, issued from the Prime Minister's office, is made up of officers of the Winnipeg Grenadiers or of the headquarters staff, with one exception. The exception is Maj. John H. Price of the Royal Rifles of Canada.

ABOUT
JOHNS-MANVILLENo Prophet Needed
To Guess This One

Anyone who reads the papers knows the fuel question will be a serious matter for all of us next winter. Of course, there are several ways to prepare for the shortages which are going to be inevitable. But if you are on the lookout for an easy and inexpensive way to help overcome the problem, then it will certainly pay you to consider Johns-Manville Rock Wool Home Insulation. This famous product today is saving up to 30% on fuel for thousands of home owners—a saving mighty important to Canada in view of the ever-growing need for fuel in our war program.

Talk to the people in your neighborhood who have J-M Insulation in their homes. They'll tell you how it keeps every room cooler in summer, and warmer and healthier in winter with much less fuel. For free literature that tells the whole story, just call your J-M dealer, V.I. Hardwood Floor Company, 707 Johnson Street, G 7314.

Successful Year
For British Sub

A BRITISH PORT (CP)—H.M.S. Upright, which flies the "Jolly Roger" flag of the Mediterranean submarine flotilla, is back in port after a year of duty. She brings back with her two special distinctions which set her apart from all other submarines—she is the only submarine in the world to have torpedoed and sunk a floating dock, and she has shot down a Messerschmitt as well.

The floating dock, in the tow of enemy tugs and escorted by three destroyers and two aircraft, was sighted in daylight just a mile off Cape del Armi, Italy. Although there was a flat calm and all conditions favored enemy counter-measures, Lieut. John Wrath, commander of the Upright, decided on attack. Another submarine saw the Upright's torpedoes hit the target.

"We dived deep immediately," said Lieut. Wrath, "but unluckily we struck a patch of fresh water and went down, down well below the dangerous depth marks on the gauges. Depth charges exploded near, but did no damage."

The Messerschmitt was shot down by Lewis gun fire from the bridge as the Upright lay on the surface in Malta harbor. Able Seaman F. C. Woolley of London and Mate C. A. B. Sprattling of Surbiton were on duty in the coming tower when an ME109F chased a new Maryland bomber overhead.

Sprattling was on the gun and Woolley loaded. Smoke poured from the plane's engines and bullets ripped along the fuselage. It crashed over the tops of buildings in the harbor. The Upright's "Jolly Roger" also shows that she sank a destroyer, an Italian cruiser and four enemy transports during patrols.

health and able to carry on his work as usual until two weeks ago, when he was taken to hospital.

He was born in Pelkington, Ont., Feb. 14, 1862, and graduated from the University of Toronto with the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

NOTED BOTANIST
Great Traveler

Dr. Arthur Henry Reginald Buller, famous botanist and for many years professor of Botany at the University of Manitoba, was in the course of a California lecture tour.

His writings on physiological botany, fungi and other biological subjects include "Researches on Fungi," "Essays on Wheat," "Practical Botany" and the "Fungi of Manitoba." He was one of the co-operators in the publication of the Journal of Economic Biology and has written a number of articles on university development in Manitoba. Other writings of the noted botanist are "The Site Question at the University of Manitoba" and "The Progress of Science." He was awarded the Flavelle Medal of the Royal Society of Canada in 1929 and the Royal Medal by the Royal Society (London) in 1937.

Dr. Buller, incidentally, holds a record for Atlantic crossings, ocean voyaging being classed among his recreations. He crossed the Atlantic 62 times.

On Saturday Dr. Buller conferred with J. E. Bier, plant pathologist, Forestry Department; W. R. Foster, plant pathologist, Department of Agriculture, and Dr. Clifford Carl of the museum.

He also visited the Dominion Experimental Farm at Newell, looked up Dr. William Newell, and Irene Mounce, the latter a former pupil of his at the University of Manitoba.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

ONE must pay tribute to those two line athletes, Art Chapman and Norm Baker. Despite the fact these lads arrived in Victoria Thursday, after a strenuous 6,000-odd-mile journey that wound up with their helping the Dominos to win the Canadian basketball championship, they turned out Friday night and played bang-up games for James Bay in the opening box lacrosse tilt of the season.

And don't forget Chapman and Baker had not had the advantage of any practice and literally went into the game cold. Other members of the respective clubs had been turning out two and three nights a week, whipping themselves into condition. But that made little difference to the pair as they contributed six goals towards the James Bay cause. This duo are just a couple of naturals when it comes to athletics and must be admired for their performances.

For Baker it was likely his last lacrosse game until the duration. Today Norm returned to Vancouver to resume his duties with the R.C.A.F. However, it is possible the Victoria star may get to play on the mainland or in the east should he be moved out of British Columbia. One thing is certain, his presence will be sorely missed by the Bays. He was one of their most prolific scorers.

Army and Navy clubs in the senior ball league make their initial appearances tonight. The two senior services are reported to be well-stocked with diamond performers and the fans are quite interested to see just what the outfits have to offer. We have heard reports about the high-class material available but will be able to judge better the respective merits of the clubs after seeing them in action.

Value of having two ranking pitchers on any ball club was demonstrated last week during the Coast League series between Seattle Rainiers and Oakland in the California city. After dropping the first two games to the Oaks, Manager Bill Skiff threw the two aces Hal Turpin and Dick Barrett at Oakland and the result—a pair of victories and the series all tied up. Turpin and Barrett have contributed 14 victories between them to date, just a little better than one-third of the 40-odd wins we forecast for the two veteran right-handers.

Softballers return to the sports front this week with the association again operating a men's senior A division after a layoff of one season. Two of the clubs, Longshoremen and Royal Canadian Navy, are certain to have first-ranking outfits. The Longshoremen are former British Columbia champions while the Navy boasts a number of crack players from prairie points. Last season the navy boys enjoyed a great season and were reckoned as one of the strongest softball nines ever collected together in the province. We look for some great battles between the two squads.

Off the scoreboard in the major baseball leagues: On May 1, 1942, at Boston the Brooklyn and Boston teams played 26 innings to a 1 to 1 tie. Brooklyn scored in the fifth and Boston in the sixth. From then on, for 20 consecutive innings, neither team scored. Cadore pitched for Brooklyn and Oeschger for Boston. On August 25, 1922, the Chicago Cubs and Phillies met, in what to quote a sports writer, "was advertised as a ball game, but early proved to be a comic opera to the tune of base hits." It appeared that the records were in danger of being broken and that the only record which was safe was the "put-out record." The two clubs scored 49 runs, 51 hits and the Cubs scored the plate 14 times in the fourth inning. Marty Callaghan of the Cubs went to bat three times in that inning. The Cubs won after three hours 26 to 23.

Alsab Redeems Himself

Wins the Hard Way

BALTIMORE (AP) — Alsab came back Saturday. With the same thunder in his legs that carried him to greatness a year ago, the little colt roared down Pimlico's stretch to win the classic Preakness Stakes and end the jinx on him all this year.

He did it the hard way, before a record crowd of 42,000. He came from far back and on the outside to run over eight of the nine other horses in the field in the last quarter mile and finish on top by a length and take the $58,175 pot of gold. He was ridden by Basil Gimes.

He thus ended all the 'disappointments' which accompanied his eight straight losing races to the top of the heap in 1941, winner of 15 races, 10 in a row.

So with all that riding on the 52nd edition of Maryland's turf classic, he smashed over the finish line in 1 minute 57 seconds, chopping a full 1 1/5 seconds from the stake record High Quest set in 1934.

Alsab was a clean length on top at the wire, while Ben Whitaker's Requested from Texas and Warren Wright's Sun Again, the best youngster who was a doubtful starter until two hours before post time, battled it out for second honors.

DEAD HEAT

Requested and Sun Again hit the tape so close that not even the camera could split them and they finished in a dead heat. A length back of them, after being last at the mile mark in the 1 3/16 miles struggle, came Maryland's pride, R. Sterling Clark's Colchis.

Half a length back of him was last week's Kentucky Derby hero—Shut Out. The son of Equipoise, half of Mrs. Payne Whitney's one-two punch in this year's big stakes, had little of his Kentucky class this time. He couldn't keep up in the early going, failed again at the finish and was fifth.

Fair Call, owned by Mrs. Barclay Douglas of Long Island, was sixth; Emerson F. Woodward's Valinda Orphan was seventh; Mrs. Whitney's "glamour boy," Devil Diver, stopped cold and was eighth; William Woodward's Apache was a tired ninth and the English-bred Domingo, from the barn of movie man Louis B. Mayer, chased all the others home.

The bettors knew Alsab was hot this time. They backed him down to the favorite's slot at $3.05 to $1.

This biggest crowd ever to jam "Old Hilltop" poured money into the mutual machines. A total of $240,353 was bet on the Preakness alone, nearly equalling the $250,000 record set in this race when "Man o'War" won it.

In picking up $58,175 for his first victory this year Alsab boosted his all-time earnings to $182,075.

Alsab will go to Belmont Park Tuesday to run in the Withers and Belmont Stakes.

WORLD AUTO RECORD

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP) — Jimmy Wilburn of Indianapolis set a new world mile dirt track record of 105.57 miles an hour Sunday as auto racing at the Langhorne Speedway came to an end for the duration of the war.

Verley Captures Oak Bay Title

Gordon Verley is the new men's champion of the Victoria Golf Club. In the 36-hole final Sunday he defeated Dr. E. L. McNiven 5 and 3.

After taking a 4 up margin at the end of the first 18 holes Verley maintained his advantage throughout the afternoon to wind up the match on the 33rd green.

In the 36-hole final for possession of the Galt Cup, W. H. M. Haldane defeated Eddie Horsman 3 and 2.

Collegians Win Soccer Honors

St. Louis College, scholastic institution that has been making a habit of lifting championships in every line of sport it enters a team, did it again, Saturday afternoon. Brother O'Donnell's collegian soccer eleven defeated Burnaby Junior Forest Wardens, 3 to 2, to win the provincial junior championship, and Con Jones Trophy.

The game was nip and tuck all the way and took a period of overtime and a goal by the college's Reg. Clarkson, to give Victoria the title. The winning goal was a fast one, Reg. rushing in to take the rebound of his own shot, pushing it past goalie Boyer Strugnell as his own players blocked his vision.

Benny Taylor, Burnaby wingman, opened the scoring late in the first half from a goal-front scramble. Five minutes later, after repeated tries, college tied it up, Conti putting the ball home.

Came the second half and Reg. Clarkson put college in the lead on a nice solo rush. Shortly after Forest Rangers neutralized that effort, scoring from a corner kick. Frank Adams deflected Jack Watson's cross for the score. College held an edge in play on the strength of its half line of Walker, Battle and Pickles.

Both teams were pretty tired when overtime came, but Clarkson managed to break in on the goal with three minutes to go to get his own rebound.

Bishop J. C. Cody presented the B.C. championship cup to Jack Battle, captain of the college team. Dave MacMillan refereed.

R.A.F. WINS

In an exhibition match Saturday afternoon, Royal Air Force beat Vancouver Boeings 5 to 3. The teams will play a return match on the mainland.

After being down, 2 to 1, at half time, the British flyers shifted into high to knock in four goals while holding the Vancouver mechanics to a singleton. The match was fast the whole way and showed good football.

Barbara Mackay Tons Rankings

Barbara Mackay of Victoria and Ken Crockett, Edmonton, topped the annual rankings of the Western Canada Table Tennis Association.

Miss Mackay captured the western Canada, Pacific Northwest and Victoria city championships. June Boyce, Edmonton, was placed second in the women's rankings with Joy Payne, Victoria, third.

Crockett was the winner of the western Canada singles and finalist in the Alberta championships. Wilmut Brown-Cave, Victoria, took second place.

Vic Tully and Bill Cotton, Victoria, were placed at the head of the men's doubles with A. Drummond and Crockett, Edmonton, ranked number one in the mixed. Rankings follow:

MEN'S SINGLES
1. Ken Crockett, Edmonton; 2. W. Brown-Cave, Victoria; 3. Les Marshall, California; 4. H. Kennedy, Vancouver; 5. A. Brown, Victoria; 6. Fred Switz, Vancouver; 7. Ray Dawson, Victoria; 8. C. Opening of the Burnside Tennis Club courts, 401 Burnside Road, will take place Wednesday, May 20. Visitors will be welcome.

Best Double Play Pair

Phil Rizzuto takes toss from Joe Gordon, who circles behind him, forces Glenn McQuillen of St. Louis Browns at second and whips ball to Buddy Hassett at first to nip George McQuinn. Baseball's slickest double play combination was broken up temporarily when Gordon was forced out of New York Yankee line-up with wrenched back.

Flyers, V.M.D. Win Baseball

Army-Navy Tonight

It will be Army vs. Navy in tonight's senior ball game at the Athletic Park. The two service clubs, long bitter rivals on the sports front, will start the ball rolling at 6.30. To add a little more color to the proceedings the Army Band will be in attendance. Lloyd Cann will occupy the mound for the Army, with Stan Davies working for the Navy. Both these boys are well known to local fans for their work with civilian clubs in former seasons.

Royal Canadian Air Force and Victoria Machinery Depot marked up victories as the league season was ushered in with two games Saturday. Although the weather was anything but ideal, the fans saw lots of scoring and base hits as the Flyers turned back last year's champion Eagles 9 to 8, and the V.M.D. accounted for Pitzer and Nex 12 to 9.

Usual opening ceremony took place in the afternoon with Alderman Duncan McTavish, Group Captain A. J. Ashton, R.C.A.F., and Dave Essler, president of the Eagles, participating. Band of the R.C.A.F. was in attendance at both games.

Apparently the cold weather bothered the pitchers of all four clubs, as walks played an important role. None of the hurlers were gifted with a great amount of control and the free passes were mainly responsible for the high scoring. Total of 33 walks, 18 in the afternoon and 15 at night were given up.

R.A.F. Wins Cricket

By the margin of six wickets Royal Air Force cricketers defeated the University School in an exhibition match Saturday on the school grounds. University School scored 81 while the Flyers put on 100 for four wickets.

Feature of the match was the opening partnership of Green and Wildmore for the R.A.F. After putting on 78 runs the pair retired. Green scored 53 and Wildmore 25. Thorne contributed 16 not out for the airmen.

High batsman for the school was Twiss with 31. Dalziel put on 16 and Wade 10. Thorne bowled well for the Flyers, taking six wickets for nine runs.

Annual Sports Meet At St. Michael's

Victor Ludorum Cup for the open events in the annual athletic meet of St. Michael's School Saturday was won by T. Mullally following victories in the hurdles, two laps open and the cricket throw.

Intermediate cup went to G. Young, the junior to G. Farmer and the midget to H. MacLean. Prizes were presented by Major General R. O. Alexander.

The events attracted a large crowd of parents and friends, in addition to a large number of old boys. The old boys' race, won by P. Birch-Jones, attracted entries from both the army and navy.

Johnson Hitting Star

Joe DiMaggio clouted a homer, his fifth of the season, in the fourth inning of the first game at New York. However, Bob Johnson was the American League's clouting king for the day as he paced the A's to their double win over the Boston nine. In the first game he had three hits in three trips to the plate, one being a home run. In the second game he had three for five, with another home run.

In the National League old Carl Hubbell, not so long ago the king of the southpaws, failed in an effort to chalk up his first win this season as Brooklyn Dodgers shelled him from the hill in the sixth inning and continued a 10-hit assault against relief pitchers Lohman and Adams to beat the New York Giants 5 to 3.

The game, played in Brooklyn, saw Ed Head pitch his way to an eight-hit victory, his fourth triumph of the season. Bucky Walters showed his old-time form at Cincinnati as he held the St. Louis Cardinals to four hits and struck out 10 to win the second game of a double header 3 to 0. To top off his stellar pitching performance, Bucky delivered the single which drove in two runs in the seventh inning. The Reds added the other in the eighth. The first game was also a shutout win for Cincinnati, 1 to 0.

CUBS SPLIT TWO

Chicago Cubs divided their double bill with Pittsburgh Pirates at Chicago, the Cubs winning the first 4 to 2 and losing the second 3 to 2. Claude Passeau won his third game of the season in the opener when he bested Luke Hamlin. Bob Klinger allowed five hits in winning the second for the Pirates.

Ernie Koy homered with two on in the fifth inning of the second game of a doubleheader at Boston between the Braves and the Philadelphia Phils to give the Phils a 4 to 3 triumph in the second game after the Braves had captured the first 5 to 1 on Al Javery's five-hit slinging. Eddie Miller and Buddy Gemp homered in the first game for Boston.

Yanks Sweep Two Games To Increase Loop Lead

Fence-busters Use Squeeze For One Win

There were strange doings in Gotham yesterday.

The New York Yankees, whose usual custom has been to win baseball games by blasting opposition hurling in all directions, won a doubleheader from Washington Senators by virtue of a squeeze play and a wild pitch.

Bill Dickey—of all people—and Charlie Keller were the leading figures in the squeeze play which won the first game 4 to 3 for the Yanks, the heavy-hitting catcher bunting the left fielder home from third base for the game-winning run in the ninth inning. A wild pitch by Jack Williams, Washington relief hurler, let Frankie Crosetti scamper home with the deciding run in the 10th inning of the second game which the Yanks won 3 to 2.

The double triumph boosted the Yankees' lead over Cleveland Indians to two full games in the American League, the Tribe splitting a pair with Detroit, losing the first 5 to 1, and winning the second 6 to 5. At Philadelphia the Athletics took two from Boston Red Sox, 4 to 2 and 6 to 5. Chicago won a game at St. Louis, beating the Browns 9 to 7 in the second game of a double bill after losing the first 5 to 2.

Seattle Splits Double-header

The four leading teams of the Coast League go into this week's series in the same relative positions they held all last week, with Seattle still well in front.

Seattle's powerful Rainiers lost their Sunday nightcap to Oakland, and with it the series, through the brilliant work of pitcher John Yelovic. Seattle had scored three runs—all they got in the second game—and only one man was out when Yelovic was sent into the game in the first inning. He retired the side and allowed only four singles for the remainder of the game.

Oakland evened the count in the fifth and in the last inning Yelovic scored the winning run on a hit by Hugh Luby. The final score was 4 to 3.

Seattle won the opener 5 to 5. Oakland had a 3 to 1 lead going into the seventh, but a couple of singles and a double gave the Rainiers three runs. They added four more on five hits in the eighth.

San Francisco, in last place in the league standings, won the second game from San Diego, 2 to 1, after the Padres had taken the opener, 9 to 6. At Hollywood, Charley Root pitched the Stars to a 13 to 1 victory over Los Angeles, but four Hollywood errors gave the visitors the second game, 6 to 4.

Sacramento and Portland split the doubleheader, Sacramento winning the first, 5 to 1, Portland the second, 5 to 2.

Captain's Team Wins

By a margin of 21 to 18 the captain's team defeated the president's representatives in the annual team match at the Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday.

Third round of the annual women's competition for the Hodges Cup was played Sunday.

Results follow:
Mrs. High won from Miss I. Austin, 3 and 2.
Miss D. Grubb won from Mrs. Cunningham, 2 up.
Miss I. Jarvis won from Mrs. Hulke, 3 and 2.
Mrs. J. Fanthorpe won from Mrs. G. Rice, 3 and 1.
Semifinals will be played on or before Sunday.
Draw follows:
Mrs. C. N. High vs. Miss D. Grubb.
Miss I. Jarvis vs. Mrs. J. Fanthorpe.

MIAMI'KING'S ROW' AT CAPITOL

One of Hollywood's most widely discussed pictures in years arrives in town today at the Capitol Theatre, where "Kings Row," screen adaptation of the best-seller novel, is being shown.

Many factors have contributed to arousing both public and professional curiosity about the manner in which Warner Bros. would deal with "Kings Row," not the least, of course, being the book, by Henry Bellamann, which lead the best-seller lists for more than a year.

Ann Sheridan, Ronald Reagan, Robert Cummings and Betty Field are starred.

"Kings Row" is the story of a town, a tiny midwestern town, and of the lives of four young people who grew up there. The action of the story spans the years from 1890 to 1904, but it might have happened any time—or any place. It is a story of love and hate, bitter tragedy and rich comedy, mixed in just about the proportions that these are mixed in the real life.

SPENCER TRACY IN ARCTIC EPIC

Working in ice-cold water for motion picture scenes is becoming an ordinary assignment for Spencer Tracy. The star who, in January of 1937, spent days in frigid ocean water for wreck scenes for "Captains Courageous," has added to his cold water record by plunging into a freezing mountain torrent for the most hazardous single scene in "Northwest Passage," which opens today at the York Theatre for an engagement of three days.

But in doing the human-chain sequence across a counterpart of the St. Francis River for the spectacular Technicolor filmization of Kenneth Roberts' best-seller, Tracy took 200 of Rogers' Rangers with him. In "Captains Courageous" he worked alone in the water.

'Agent of Japan' Showing Tomorrow

A smashing story of undercover activities of Japanese agents just before the attack on Pearl Harbor has been brought to the screen by the 20th Century-Fox studios in "Secret Agent of Japan," which opens at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

The first film out of Hollywood to give the lowdown on enemy espionage which led up to the outbreak of hostilities, "Secret Agent of Japan" is a startling revelation of intrigue and treachery in the Far East.

Featuring Preston Foster and Lynn Bari in a story of unusual power, the picture takes Shanghai for its locale and portrays the activities of secret agents trying to beat their enemies to the punch. Foster plays the role of a cafe owner who co-operates with Lynn in trying to gain information which will prove vital to the British and American forces. Loaded with dynamite, the story gets them into one hair-raising episode after another.

CADET FEATURE

Four stars in a hilarious tangle of scrambled loves are bringing laughter in over-size doses to the Cadet Theatre, where "When Ladies Meet" is playing, with Joan Crawford, Robert Taylor, Greer Garson and Herbert Marshall sharing the honors and the comedy.

Adapted from the Rachel Crothers stage success, the story deals with a sentimental quartette. Miss Crawford plays a lady novelist, loved by Taylor but infatuated with her publisher, played by Marshall. Miss Garson plays Marshall's wife, who has tolerated many flirtations on his part.

Pageant Plans Advance Here

"Miss Victory," reigning figure in Greater Victoria's school children's Pageant of United Nations on May 25, will be chosen by lot Tuesday evening.

She will be selected from a field of seven representatives from the high schools of the area and the junior high, each of which is electing, by popular vote, one girl to represent the school.

The other six will be attendants in the pageant.

In addition to the seven main figures, each elementary school has been asked to elect by popular vote one boy and one girl to represent the school and some specific country among the United Nations. Plans at present call for costuming by the Parent-Teacher Association of the school each represents.

Miss Victory and her attendants will be clothed in long white evening gowns.

H. S. Hurn, principal of Victoria West School, will plan and direct the pageant and act as narrator during the performance.

A rehearsal, to be attended by all pupils chosen, will be held Friday evening May 22 in the Victoria High gymnasium.

The pageant will be a feature of the May 25 festivities planned for Macdonald Park to raise funds for A.R.P. needs.

W. C. FIELDS IN EXCITING COMEDY

W. C. Fields stars in his latest Universal comedy, "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break," to headline the current bill at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

A strong supporting cast that includes Gloria Jean, Leon Errol, Butch and Buddy, Susan Miller, Franklin Pangborn, Charles Lang and Margaret Dumont appears in the picture with Fields.

Fields is seen as himself in the film. The story opens in a movie studio and moves from there on a fantastic journey to Mexico. Most of the other players also appear as themselves.

Collaborating with John T. Neville and Prescott Chaplin, Fields wrote the screenplay under the pen name of Otis Cribblecobles. It was directed by Edward Cline.

'YANK IN R.A.F.' PRESENTED AT RIO

An enthusiastic audience acclaimed the new 20th Century-Fox production, "A Yank in the R.A.F.," as the top hit of the season when it opened today at the Rio Theatre.

With Tyrone Power, as the flying Yank, giving his finest performance to date, and Betty Grable as a London night club entertainer, proving her ability as a dramatic actress in addition to singing and dancing, this first film about Britain's gallant fighting men of the sky shows them at work and at play.

Director Henry King has recreated a thrilling evacuation of Dunkerque, in the film which was produced by Darryl F. Zanuck, using many actual shots from the archives of the R.A.F.

TROPIC ROMANCE ON ATLAS SCREEN

A love story told in the most beautiful Technicolor seen in many a movie moon is on the screen of Atlas Theatre, where Paramount's Technicolor romance, "Bahama Passage," is currently being shown.

This is the picture that took stars Madeleine Carroll and Stirling Hayden, together with a company of 40 men and women headed by Producer-director Edward H. Griffith, to the British West Indies, 4,000 miles from the film centre. This is the picture that simply had to be filmed in the tropic country, where author Nelson Hayes' original story, "Dildo Cay," was laid. This is the picture that had to be made in Technicolor to recreate the colorful glory of the Bahamas.

Friday evening May 22 in the Victoria High gymnasium.

The pageant will be a feature of the May 25 festivities planned for Macdonald Park to raise funds for A.R.P. needs.

Red Cross Canvass Opened Here Today

Canadian Red Cross forces here were all in the field today in a drive to raise at least $90,000 in the Greater Victoria district towards the national objective of $9,000,000 needed to carry on the organization's international work.

The women's division, under Miss Sara Spencer started its rounds of the residential districts today, following the opening of canvasses by other divisions last week.

The special names group has been asked to raise $56,000, the business section $6,500, the residential canvass $16,000, the industrial and commercial division $7,000, the services $4,500, outside districts, running as far north as Cobble Hill, $5,000 and the hotels $2,000.

Early reports of the drive, as yet too young to provide collection figures, indicated a readiness on the part of the public to subscribe to the organization which has won warranted acclaim for the work it is doing to alleviate the suffering of wartime.

This afternoon the band of the Royal Canadian Navy gave the first of a series of downtown concerts to draw attention to the canvass. On view Street between Broad and Douglas the popular musical group presented a varied program and rendered ceremonial drills. The Canadian Army band is scheduled to appear at the same location Tuesday at 2.30 and on Friday the Royal Canadian Air Force will play at the same point at 2.30.

PRESIDENTIAL APPEAL

As the drive got under way today Major Harold Brown, local chairman and his assistant, S. K. Campbell, drew attention to the appeal issued by George C. Derby, president of the British Columbia division, Canadian Red Cross Society.

"In asking the public to support the Canadian Red Cross Society's appeal for funds," said Mr. Derby, "I do so in the knowledge that never in the history of the world was it more necessary that each individual subscribe to the utmost for the assistance of his fellow man."

"This is a war in which all the nations of the world are participating, and the Red Cross Society is expected to care not only for the sick and wounded of the armed forces, but also for the sick and wounded among the civil population. Not only the peoples of our Empire, but also the peoples of those nations with whom we are allied in this great struggle for humanity, are dependent upon us for aid."

HELP PRISONERS

"Prisoners of war who are in enemy hands and also those peoples now living in occupied countries require food, clothing and medical supplies from us. At home, the Canadian Red Cross Society has a tremendous responsibility in furnishing hospital and medical supplies, as well as clothing in those areas which are considered vulnerable. The society must be prepared to carry on its mission of mercy at home and abroad, and it is hardly necessary for me to point out that, owing to the international scope of the organization, it is able to do work which no government or other organization is capable of doing.

"Never was the need greater, nor has humanity had a greater privilege of participating in the alleviation of suffering. In order that the society may be prepared to do those things which it is rightly expected to do, it is imperative that the greatest financial support possible be given it."

"I therefore urge that all avail themselves of this opportunity to assist in alleviating the sufferings of our less fortunate fellow men."

Indicative of the appreciation shown for the Red Cross work by local people was the reaction of the "Woolworth's Wholes," girls' club of Woolworth's Ltd., which donated $25 from club funds towards the fund.

Dull, Cool Weather Keeps Fires Down

The dull, cool weather of recent weeks may be annoying most people, but forest rangers and fire-fighters think it is fine.

Today's weekly fire situation report, released by Lands Minister A. W. Grey, shows there have been only 29 forest fires to date. Last year, by this time, there had been 106 fires.

Of the 29 fires, 16 broke out during the last week. Fourteen fires were extinguished. At present only two fires are burning.

The longer such weather as this keeps on, the lesser will be the dangers to B.C. forests this summer.

POLICE INQUIRY COMES TO END

Evidence taken at the lengthy inquiry into handling of stores of the Provincial Police is now being prepared for submission to the Provincial Cabinet.

The inquiry, which took six weeks, covered all phases of police purchases. Many witnesses were called before Commissioner W. H. M. Haldane.

The evidence amounted to 3,000 pages and will take a week to prepare, Mr. Haldane said. When the transcript is ready Mr. Haldane will prepare his report for the cabinet.

Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, at present in Ottawa, is expected to be back in Victoria when the report is presented. Any action will be taken by him, as head of the Provincial Police.

The inquiry, held under the Departmental Enquiries Act, has been secret, but further action, if it is taken, will be heard in public court.

Heads Rotary Club

Frank Turley, Oak Bay councillor and former manager of the Victoria office of the Imperial Oil Company, has been named president of the Rotary Club of Victoria. He will take office July 1. He succeeds A. C. Lindsay.

$1,364 Collected By A.R.P. Taggers

A total of $1,364.96 was collected in Saturday's tag day held by the Civic Employees' Federation of Greater Victoria to raise funds for local A.R.P. needs. D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer, reported following completion of his count today.

Inside and outside staff members, firemen and police, together with their families, assisted in the tag day, during which approximately 70 taggers received donations on downtown streets.

During the day bands of the army, navy and air force played to draw attention to the collection.

The $1,364.96 sum represents the amount actually taken from collection boxes. Among the coins were two small five-cent pieces and only six large coppers, indicating those pieces are rapidly going out of circulation here.

Shipment Relieves Banana Shortage

The banana famine in Victoria was relieved to some extent this morning by the arrival of two carloads from Central America.

At the same time it was announced from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board that a maximum wholesale and retail price for bananas had been set, and that all bananas would be sold by weight starting today.

The set prices are not specific. The ceiling is obtained by placing a limit on the landed price and on the mark-up which wholesalers and retailers may add to the landed price of the fruit.

Bananas previously were exempt from the price ceiling under a ruling covering fresh fruits and vegetables.

The evidence amounted to 3,000 pages and will take a week to prepare, Mr. Haldane said. When the transcript is ready Mr. Haldane will prepare his report for the cabinet.

The inquiry, held under the Departmental Enquiries Act, has been secret, but further action, if it is taken, will be heard in public court.

U.S. Navy Reports More Jap Ships Sunk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The navy announced this afternoon that United States submarines in the western Pacific had sunk a Japanese destroyer and two cargo ships, one of them a naval auxiliary.

These three sinkings raise the toll of Japanese ships, both naval and commercial, taken by United States submarines to 42 sunk, 12 probably sunk and 11 damaged. Only four days ago, May 7, submarines were reported to have sunk three commercial vessels, including a medium sized tanker.

A communiqué said the sinkings were not related to last week's naval clash in the Coral Sea.

2 SUBS SUNK

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (CP) — In a sequel to the Battle of the Coral Sea, Allied bombers dealt another blow to Japanese naval power Sunday by sinking or damaging two enemy submarines off north-eastern Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The number of Japanese vessels officially reported knocked out of action or badly crippled in this theatre in the last seven days thus was raised to a total of 21.

Competent observers said there were good grounds to believe the Allied announcements of Japanese losses so far had been correct.

Victorians Attend United Conference

A number of Victoria and island ministers and laymen left today to attend sessions of the British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada, which opens tomorrow in Vancouver and runs for slightly over a week. This year's conference is expected to be one of the largest in the history of the province in terms of membership.

At least, Every minister of the United Church, whether in pastoral work or in extra ministerial work, such as the chaplain service or on the mission field, is a member of the conference in their home province.

This year a large number of missionaries on the foreign field have been forced to return and have taken up residence in Vancouver and are attached to various congregations as members.

Under the system of equality of representation between ministerial and lay delegates there is an equal number of lay delegates appointed for each minister attached either in a pastoral or membership capacity with any church. The increase in the number of ministers has thus automatically increased the lay delegate total and thus stepped up the complete membership of the conference. The present conference roll will total approximately 500.

LAYMEN OPEN

The opening sessions of the conference will be under the auspices of the lay association and will occupy the morning and afternoon Tuesday. Under the auspices of the conference pension fund committee a ministerial session will be held Tuesday afternoon while the first public meeting of conference week will be Tuesday evening when Hon. H. H. Stevens will speak on "Advance or Retreat."

The Christian Advance Movement will be dealt with by three speakers at the afternoon session of the lay association.

Conference proper will commence Wednesday morning when Rev. Hugh Dobson, B.A., D.D., president of conference, will deliver the presidential sermon and conduct the communion service at 9.45. Committee meetings will occupy the balance of the day and in the evening a missionary rally will be held. The public meeting Thursday night will take the form of a temperance rally with Rev. G. A. Little of Toronto as speaker. The ordination service will be held Friday evening and the young people's rally the following Monday. Social music will be a feature of all the public services.

Three motorists were fined $10 each in police court today, two for exceeding 30 miles per hour and one for exceeding 45 miles per hour on Johnson Street Bridge. One motorist was fined $5 for making a prohibited U-turn and four were fined $2.50 each on parking convictions.

Former Victorian Hongkong Prisoner

Captain George Porteous, included in the list of Hongkong prisoners of war released by Ottawa Sunday night, formerly worked in Victoria as Y.M.C.A. director of boys' work, it was learned here today.

He preceded Viv Shoemaker in that post, holding it for the years 1926 and 1927. While here he met and married Mildred Redman. His wife, according to friends here, is now living in Saskatchewan. His mother-in-law resides on Pandora Avenue.

Coming to Victoria from eastern Canada where he played Canadian rugby, George gained considerable prominence in local rugby circles as a member of the J.B.A.A.

Leaving Victoria, he continued Y.M.C.A. work in Montreal and after moving about Canada, joined up as a "Y" man at the outbreak of war. He served in England for a period before returning to Winnipeg. He lost that city with the regiment going to Hongkong. He was listed in today's notice as George Porteous, Auxiliary Services attached to the Winnipeg Grenadiers.

Three motorists were fined $10 each in police court today, two for exceeding 30 miles per hour and one for exceeding 45 miles per hour on Johnson Street Bridge. One motorist was fined $5 for making a prohibited U-turn and four were fined $2.50 each on parking convictions.

IT'S NOT EASY TO KEEP UP WITH THE world. It's not easy to afford the things you want, but find that on your pocket book those little things—like driving a car, buying party frocks, tending a garden, brushing your teeth,
yes. But they cost money, every one, and a lot more of those little things besides!

SEALED Tenders addressed to the undersigned and endorsed, "Tender for Coal for Western Provinces," will be received until 2.00 P.M. (E.D.S.T.), Tuesday, June 2, 1942, for the supply of coal for the Dominion Buildings and Experimental Farms and Stations, throughout the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.
Forms of tender with specifications and conditions attached can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa; the District Resident
Architect, Winnipeg, Man.; the District Resident Architect, Saskatoon, Sask.; the District Resident Architect, Calgary, Alta.; and the District Resident Architect, Victoria,
B.C.
Tenders should be made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions attached thereto. Coal dealers' license numbers must be given when tendering.
The Department reserves the right to demand from any successful tenderer, before awarding the order, a security deposit in the form of a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, made payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque, if required to make up an odd amount.
Such security will serve as a guarantee for the proper fulfillment of the contract.
By order,
J. M. SOMERVILLE, Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, May 6, 1942.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY AND EASILY
If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.
For this purpose get a package of Hemroid from Modern Pharmacy or Cunningham Drug Stores, or any drugist, and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and sore-ness and aid in healing the sore, tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.
If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your drugist will gladly return your money.

Good Racing Card
At Cadboro Bay
Aquila, Ishkoodah and Onoway crossed the finish line first in the star, snipe and dinghy classes inaugurating the racing schedule of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club Sunday.
Informal races were run off Saturday, the opening day of the season, when Lalanga, Pancho and Ishkoodah were winners in their respective classes.
Feature of the Saturday evening opening function at the Cadboro Bay clubhouse was the presentation of a water color painting of the international yachting fleet at Cowichan Bay to Ben B. Temple, veteran of the club, on the occasion of his 80th birthday.
The presentation was made by Arthur D. Cresse, the club's oldest member, who joined the local yachting organization in 1895, one year before Mr. Temple.
Congratulatory telegrams were received from Vancouver, Seattle and Bellingham, and old-time yachtsmen present included
Walter F. Adams, Harry T.
Barnes, B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake,
Capt. Arthur Lane, Major W. H.
Langley, G. F. Payne, F. Wilson,
R. Armstrong, H. G. Hinton, F.
J. Jeanne and L. A. Genge.
The R.V.Y.C. is observing its 50th anniversary.
Sunday's races, commencing at 10.30, resulted as follows:
Stars—Aquila, sailed by Stone-hewer, 11.29.50; Ripples, Walter Walsh, 11.30.15; Boykin, Walter Blandy, 11.30.29. Snipes—Ishkoodah, Alfie Evans, 11.22.40;
Pelican, Jack Moran, 11.25.15;
Kakawis, Miss Byrom, 11.32.10.
Dinghies—Onoway, Campbell
Warren, 11.31.20; Falcon, B.
Hetherington, 11.32.22; Kismet, J.
Down, 11.33.10.
Fred N. D. Robertson was officer of the day, Jack Healy was timekeeper and R. V. James, in Lalanga, patrolled the course.
The course was from the club dolphins to the beach mark, to Flower Island, to Paterson Point, to beach mark and home, twice around.
Finishing times Saturday were: Lalanga, R. V. James, 4.00.50; Margaret D., Andy
Wright, 4.01.55; Cheria, Max
Young, 4.15.
Dinghies—Pancha, Miss P.
Cooke, Kismet, J. Downs, 4.00.40;
Falcon, Hetherington, 4.02.
Snipes—Ishkoodah, A. Evans,
3.57.22; Kakawis, Miss Byrom,
4.00.
Officer of the day was Harry Ward; starter and judge, B. B.
Temple; timekeeper, Jack Healy.
Patrol boat, Barbara Jean.

52 Wooden Ships
Building in Canada
OTTAWA (CP)—Formal announcement that 52 wooden ships
"of substantial size" were being built in Canada for the Royal Canadian Navy was made in the House of Commons Friday by Navy Minister Macdonald.
"There are 28 wooden ships of substantial size—I am speaking only of the larger type of ships, not about the smaller boats—being built in Canada for the Canadian navy," he said. "In addition there are 24 wooden ships being built for the British navy.
These are all wooden ships, mine-sweepers and of that general class."
Since the start of the war there has been a demand for the government to initiate wooden ship construction but, apart from the small motor craft, tenders and harbor boats, no large-scale operations have been announced.
The minister did not say where the vessels were being constructed.

9 Lost, 23 Saved
AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT (CP)—Reporting nine men killed when a torpedo sank their merchant vessel in the western Atlantic, 23 survivors have been brought to this port.
Picked up by fishermen as they drifted in three lifeboats, only one of the survivors was seriously injured. He suffered crushed feet while the others were nursing slight burns, aggravated by ex-posure. All were placed in hospital.

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR LIVER
Back it up right now and feel like a million!
Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It pours out bile to digest food, gets rid of waste, supplies new energy, allows proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order food decomposes in your intestines. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. You feel "ratty"—headachy, backachy, dizzy, dragged out all the time.
For over 25 years thousands have won prompt relief from these miseries—with Fruit-a-Liver.
So can you now. Try Fruit-a-Liver—you'll be simply delighted how quickly you'll feel like a new person, happy and well again. 25c, 50c.

Dorothy Dix: Grandma's Selfish Love Causing Unhappiness

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband's mother wants to come and live with us, although she is well-to-do and has her own home. She is a dear soul and I love her and would not object to having her, but the trouble is she insists on bringing a five-and-a-half-year-old grandson with her, who is the worst spoiled brat you ever saw in your life.

She paid a visit last summer, bringing this child with her, and he not only nearly drove us crazy, but thoroughly demoralized our little three-year-old girl who copied all his faults. The grandmother also interfered with all of my management of my child and spoiled her so badly that it took me two months to get her back to normal when grandma went home.

A peculiar situation exists as regards the little grandson. His mother and father are both living and have two other children. They are fine people, have a nice home, are amply able to take care of this boy but the grandmother has just taken him away from them, insists on his living with her, and is so crazy about him that she denies him nothing and is ruining him.

I appreciate the grandmother not wanting to be separated from the child, but I cannot stand to have my home life and my child ruined by him. What shall I do? My husband puts the situation up to me.

BEWILDERED WIFE.

ANSWER: I think you will be doing a very wrong and foolish thing if you don't put your foot down good and flat on grandma's plan to come and bring the boy to live with you. Tell her that she will be welcome in your house, but that you absolutely refuse to let her bring her little pest along with her. For your whole family life to be disrupted and your quiet home made a scene of turmoil and strife, and for your own child to have all her training in manners and morals interrupted at the most impressionable time of her life to gratify the whim of an old woman, doesn't add up. It doesn't make sense.

SHOULD BE RESTRAINED

If the grandmother can't live without her darling grandchild, let her stay in her own home. She certainly hasn't any right to inflict him on others.

A famous child-specialist said not long ago that grandmothers killed more children than dyp-theria and scarlet fever and measles and mumps and all the other infantile complaints put together. Be this as it may, it is undeniable that grandmothers can be, and often are, the most demoralizing influence a child can have in its early life. They send many a boy to the penitentiary and many a girl to the gutter; and it is much more important that a mother should protect her children from doing grandma than from playing with a bad boy around the corner who uses swear words and whistles through his teeth.

How many children's digestions have been ruined by grandma stuffing them with sweets on the sly because she didn't hold with these foolish, new-fangled notions about diet? How many have been made quitters for life by grandma always plying them and consoling them with lollipops when they fell and bumped their noses? How many have grown up to be bores because grandma always interfered with their mother's efforts to teach them good manners on the theory that if you let children eat like pigs when they are little, they will have the table manners of ladies and gentlemen when they grow up? How many men and women are failures in life because grandma coddled them and spoiled them and cultivated selfishness and egotism in them, no one knows. But their name is legion.

CHILD'S LIFE IS AT STAKE

In this particular case it seems strange that the little boy's parents have not intelligence enough to see that the grandmother is ruining him, and that he needs the discipline of a father and a mother, and in especial the discipline that children give each other. They are committing an unforgivable wrong against the child in not separating him from his grandmother. And they should not permit their dislike of hurting her and making her unhappy keep them from doing their duty. For the child's whole life is at stake, whereas grandma has only a few years to live.

So, Bewildered Wife, if your refusal to let grandmother bring the spoiled little boy to your house results in his being sent home to his parents, where he belongs, you will not only have saved your own home, but you will have done the boy the greatest kindness that one person can do another.

P.T.A. Activities

The next meeting of the preschool and school age study group will be held Tuesday at 8, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Stone, 1021 McClure Street. The subject for study is "The Spiritual Development of the Child" and will be discussed by Mrs. A. Martin.

The Victoria Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League will meet in the parish hall Tuesday at 8.

SERVICE CLUBS' WORK

The service clubs in Canada, from coast to coast, have done more to help the needy than any other organization. In fact, that is all they exist for.

Even though a man is not a member of that particular organization, it makes no difference. This has been going on for 25 years and millions of dollars have been used to provide food and clothing for the needy.

Again, where do the charitable societies come for help?

"Service clubs" are not out for profit, but to help the country and people in it, and are today building up to guide the boys when this present war is over.

In 1914 we helped and today we are 100 per cent behind the country.

I cannot help thinking that these services themselves should have quite a lot more consideration, for they are the real strength of the country.

THE "ISMS"

Mr. Page's letter to your columns escaped my attention. However, from a few quotations taken from it and given by Mr. Bird in his letter of reply, I am of the opinion that Mr. Page's knowledge of Scientific Socialism is on a par with those followers of the C.C.F. to whom he refers. I regret to state that I am compelled to extend greater credit to him for his subtle propaganda qualifications. Any person who claims the C.C.F. representatives are out to bring Fascism to this country only places himself in the position of a subject to a mirror.

I would like to inform Mr. Page that it is not essential for the followers of the C.C.F. to understand Scientific Socialism. Fortunately, for humanity, the basic idea of Socialism is simple to understand, and by that simple process, which is merely "common sense," it is becoming understood more widely today than ever students of Socialism had considered possible. I believe it can be safely said that the actions of Capitalism, Imperialism, and so-called Democracy are contributing more to that education than Socialists could have attained by a century of teaching.

For the purpose of demonstrating to Mr. Page that the understanding of Socialism by the average layman is simple, I will quote from Dr. Corlis Lamont's latest book, "Soviet Russia versus Nazi Germany." On page 22 of the above-mentioned book, Dr. Lamont states: "Democratically administered socialist planning in Soviet Russia has for its aim the achievement of a life of security and abundance for all its people."

The above statement must be analyzed as pure common sense. Now change this sentence by replacing Socialist with Capitalist, and Soviet Russia with the United States. Its reading then can be readily understood as absurd. However, it is possible to transpose this sentence to make it understandable and agreeable with Capitalism. It would then read thus: "Undemocratically administered, Capitalist planning in the United States has for its aim the achievement of a life of security and abundance for a few of its people."

A synthesis of these transpositions points to the fact that Capital and Labor have diametrically opposed interests. This statement is one of the logically reasoned facts of Scientific Socialism and is beyond dispute by any rational thinking individual.

ECHO OF THE PAST

In your paper of May 1 there appeared an article headed, "Ministers Registered to Perform Marriages." In connection with that article we would like through the medium of your paper to correct a general misunderstanding. Henry Peidt holds the office of elder in the "Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints." This church has its headquarters at Independence, Missouri, and is not connected in any way with a church using a similar name, commonly called Mormons, with headquarters at Salt Lake City, Utah.

The original church was organized on April 6, 1830, by Joseph Smith. Upon the death of Joseph Smith, confusion set in. It was at this time a group of the saints led by Brigham Young departed from the church, later re-baptizing and settling in Salt Lake City in 1847. Polygamy, as a doctrine, was publicly advocated in 1852 by this group. However, the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints was upheld by the findings of the court in Lake County, state of Ohio, U.S.A., on Feb. 23, 1880, to be the original church with unchanged doctrines. This church has many large branches through-

SCARCITY OF WELDERS

Your account of the employment of Mrs. Harvey as a welder in a local shipyard has demonstrated once again the serious lack of skilled workers in this vital war industry. Why has the shortage come about? A personal experience may be interesting. I know personally of a case where a boy, while employed by a Victoria shipyard, took a course of welding at the Shelbourne Street School and was credited by them as one of the best they had turned out. He was tested at his work by a foreman welder and passed as competent and told to hold himself ready for a welding job. In the meantime he received his call for military service and although his firm made application for his release as being employed in a war industry, it was of no avail.

No one is going to question the need for men in our armed forces nor belittle the work they are doing, but it seems strange to me that with the emphasis placed so strongly on the need for ships and material that men who have taken time and paid hundreds of dollars to learn a necessary trade at a government-recognized school so that they may be better able to help the war effort, should be drafted into something else.

There appears to be a woeful lack of co-operation between industry and the military in this respect. It is common knowledge that a full time schedule cannot be put into operation at these yards because of lack of skilled workers. Master welders have told me they can't make ship welders out of anyone. The best material is young men of enterprise. Cannot some arrangement be made with the military whereby these skilled workers could be loaned back to war industries while the need lasts and those of near military age now doing useful work be left where they are doing the most good.

Ambulance Fund Near Objective

Although canvassers had turned in only $3,800 when the drive closed Saturday night, officials of the Saanich A.R.P. Ambulance Fund said today they were sure the campaign would reach its objective of $4,000. Some canvassers had not turned in their collections yet and still have to collect from citizens who promised contributions.

A.R.P. officials said the contract for the purchase of the two ambulances would probably be made this week.

Many businesses, Municipal Clerk W. A. Greene, who is acting as fund treasurer, said, had contributed for they realized the business value of the residents of Saanich and several of these firms are expected to forward cheques by the beginning of the week.

"The response was very good, although more interest could have been taken by the public in some districts," Reeve E. C. Warren said. "The committee, however, realizes the many calls upon the public's purse at this time, and hopes that those who have not already contributed will do so at a later date, so that more equipment may be obtained."

Reeve Warren thanked committeemen in charge of the campaign and canvassers. Besides Reeve Warren the following were members of the campaign committee: George Yardley, vice-chairman; George Randall, Ernest Heybroek, J. S. Humphries, G. Maynard, W. O. Wallace, School Trustee Frank Tupman and Councillors George Austin and J. L. Hobbs.

PASSES AT LADYSMITH

LADYSMITH (CP) Mrs. Ellen Georgina Mahaffey, born at Metehosin, near Victoria, in 1901, died Saturday at her home. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rosman, pioneer residents of Metehosin.

Mrs. Mahaffey was a life member of the Douglas Post 7 of Ladysmith Native Daughters of British Columbia. Surviving are her husband and a son, John, here; two daughters, Mrs. R. H. Rea, Calgary, and Mrs. Carlo Jensen, Pacific Grove, California. E. Rosman of Victoria is a brother and Mrs. C. Cotsford, Victoria, a sister.

They'll Do It Every Time

Lizzie's Last Ride

The Salvage Corps of B.C., directed by A. H. Pease, went to the poultry farm of G. F. Matthews in Metehosin last week to collect one ton of valuable metals in the form of an ancient, unused and discarded Ford truck. With the wooden parts of the vehicle taken off, the truck was put on one of the Salvage Corps trucks and taken directly to the Cloverdale barn, headquarters for collected salvage.

Most useful parts of the old crate, according to salvage officials, is the cast-iron and frame. More than a dozen of these cars and trucks that have had their day have been collected by the salvage organization. They want all they can get. An average car yields approximately one ton of metals and useful parts.

At the Cloverdale barn one of the salvage workers is learning to take the cars apart by means of rock gas oxygen cutting tools. And so it is every Sunday. The fleet of salvage trucks cover all of the outlying districts of Victoria and the average weekly haul is valued at between $75 and $100. With the help of junior salvage workers and Boy Scouts the work of reclaiming much of what has been discarded is progressing steadily.

Schoolchildren and teachers, too, are helping the salvage work. Particular mention is made of the Willows, Monterey and Quadra schools. Here, on Sundays, teachers themselves drive the trucks and, with the assistance of groups of pupils, manage to pick up much salvage from outside points. Freeman King, Victoria district scout secretary, has established a salvage centre at Sidney and at regular intervals the trucks from Victoria go there to collect what articles the Sidney unit has collected. The loads go direct to the Cloverdale barn, to be packed, prepared and made ready for shipment. More than $3,000 was realized by the salvage centre for the month of April.

Three times a week C. C. Cuthrie of Cowichan Bay brings a load of scrap metal from his district. In two months he has brought salvage valued at $1,000.

Another salvage worker, F. A. Graham, who is the owner of a small cabin cruiser, plans to cover the Gulf Islands this summer. He will tow a scow and call at points on the islands and other more northerly sections of Vancouver Island for salvage metals. "There are tons of metals in these parts," said Mr. Pease. "Some of those machinery parts are without owners and have been lying where they are now for the last 50 years. We are trying our best to get as much of this unused material as we can."

Ontario Bushmen Unorthodox Shots

Hardened Ontario bushmen who have handled rifles since boyhood and Indian guides to whom fieldcraft is second nature are teaming up with hundreds of others just as tough as themselves and soldiering at Nanaimo with the Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury regiment.

Stationed at Camp Nanaimo on Vancouver Island, the "Soapy Suds" are learning how to direct their natural aptitude for outdoor work to modern warfare. Most of the regiment is drawn from the area between Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury, Ont., and when they ask with a shaking of their heads: "Did you ever know such a bunch?" they mean it proudly.

CHANGE TECHNIQUE

A visit to the outdoor rifle range where the men were firing from 100 yards found Capt. D. H. Forster of Sudbury acting as range officer and trying to coax keen-eyed woodsmen who had been shooting most of their lives into more orthodox firing positions without affecting their skill.

Looking on was Sgt. A. W. Harmer of Brandon, regarded by the men in his company as one of the crack shots in the regiment. He was a well-known rifleman in Manitoba before he enlisted.

With him was Pte. J. A. Desaulniers of Sudbury, who speaks 11 languages, including

Ban All Extremists, Sentiment in Sweden

By Swedish Institute of Public Opinion

STOCKHOLM—The people of Sweden, in a virtual "No-Man's-Land" of World War II, are inclined to favor prohibition of all political extremists, both rightists and leftists, according to a survey made by the recently organized "Swedish Institute of Public Opinion" (Gallup Poll).

This survey showed that 42 per cent of the Swedish people would favor prohibition of all extremist parties. Another 10 per cent would prohibit the National Socialists (Nazis) and 10 per cent favor prohibiting the Communist party. The remainder, 38 per cent of the people, are opposed to an anti-extremist law, or are undecided on the question, the poll shows.

Saves Rubber Tires

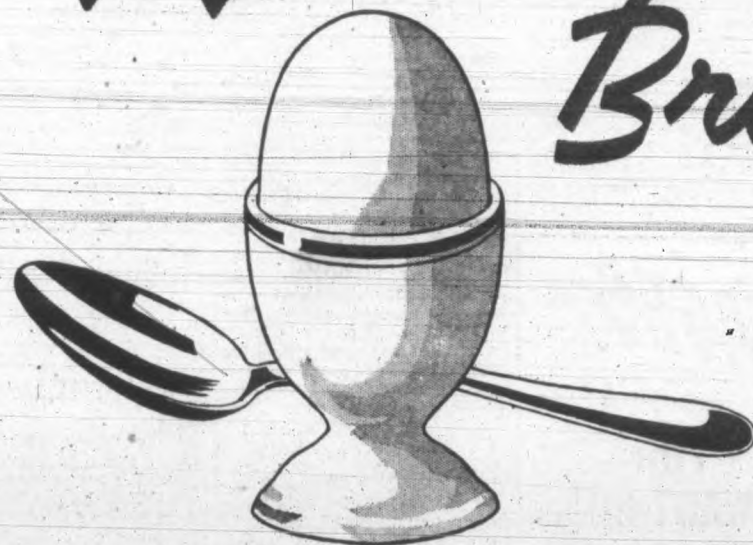

Wm. T. Ople, 1159 Beach Drive, is out to save rubber tires. He is working on an invention of cotton belting, laced over the tire as shown above. So far it is working well. He has had it patented and has sent it to Washington, D.C., hoping the United Nations may be able to use it. At first the cotton burnt the rubber more than the road, so Mr. Ople now uses rock wool as a heat deflector. The tire is nonskid, Mr. Ople says.
